The 1991 Congress of Swiss from abroad

Welcome to Lucerne

Preparations are already well under way for the 69th Congress of Swiss from abroad. This is scheduled to take place from July 26–28 in Lucerne. It will be devoted to the theme of "The Fifth Switzerland – Past, Present, Future". Incorporated in the 700th anniversary celebrations, the meeting will provide an opportunity for a portrayal of the due importance of the "Fifth Switzerland". Lectures and discussions will aim at bringing out the contribution made by the Swiss abroad to the international presence, prosperity and self-conception of Switzerland. Four forums will be held for wide-ranging discussions on fundamental questions relating to the "Fifth Switzerland" and its future perspectives. Because of the celebrations in connection with the 700th anniversary, one reckons on a record-breaking number of participants at the Congress. The Secretariat for the Swiss Abroad asks you therefore to announce your intention to attend this event in very good time. Applications will be dealt with in the order in which they arrive. The organisers of the Congress will be grateful if you fill out the application coupon on page 19 of this issue.

We draw your attention to the fact that in the first days of August a number of events will be taking place in Central Switzerland, including a reception for members of the Federal Council to meet Swiss from abroad, on August 1 1991, the celebration of that National Day in Schwyz, the popular festival in Brunnen and the performance of the "Mythenspiel" in Schwyz. May we request you to indicate your wishes in respect of hotel reservations on the above-mentioned registration coupon, bearing in mind your intentions in connection with these events.

It is hoped to offer marksmen an opportunity to take part in a programme of shooting events. The place and date for this are being worked out at the time of our going to press.

The 68th Congress for Swiss from abroad

Some 500 Swiss from 26 foreign countries attended the 68th Congress for Swiss residents abroad, held from August 16–19, 1990 in Fribourg. This year's congress was devoted to the theme of "Training of young Swiss from abroad".

It is hardly surprising that the questions of such matters dominated the proceedings. Many Swiss living abroad would like to get vocational training in our country, the grounds for this desire often being the economic and political problems in their countries, as well as the poor prospects for professional or other occupational success there. In recent years, there has been a considerable increase in the numbers of young Swiss from abroad undergoing training in Switzerland.

The degree to which the Organisation for Swiss Abroad attaches importance to matters of vocational training is evident from the incorporation on July 1, 1989, into the Secretariat for the Swiss Abroad, of the Association for furthering the Training of Young Swiss from Abroad, a title which is usually abbreviated to AJAS as an acronym of the original German name. The numerous inquiries received by AJAS show that many young Swiss from abroad are very interested in the possibilities for getting occupational training or apprenticeship, of attending a technical college or even a university, as well as for obtaining a scholarship.

The Congress – which was attended by a considerable number of young people – comprised three segments, for expert talks, for working groups, and a final round of discussions at a plenary meeting. Experts from all over Switzerland had been invited, chosen so as to cover the entire field of education. Thus among speakers, parliamentarian Jean Cavadini, Chairman of the Swiss Conference of Cantonal Directors of Education, gave a lecture to illustrate the multifarious character of the Swiss educational system: he spoke of the many problems regarding the mutual and reciprocal international recognition of diplomas.

At the Congress it became evident that young Swiss from abroad will need to have certain pre-requisite qualifications for getting full benefit from a course of training in Switzerland. We feel it necessary to warn young people from abroad to find out in good time what the pre-requisites would be needed for getting training in Switzerland. They could get help and advice by writing to: AJAS, Alpenstrasse 26, CH-3000 Berne 16.

The persons attending the Congress in Fribourg pleaded on behalf of the young Swiss from abroad for the conditions for access to Swiss educational bodies to be eased, and also for the conclusion of cultural agreements for promoting greater mobility in the fields of education and vocational training.

Needless to say, we made sure that this resolution received the widest possible diffusion. Thus it was sent to all of the country's Cantonal Education Directors. That even the Federal Council itself does not turn a deaf ear to our concerns is borne out by its recommendation to Parliament regarding measures that should be taken to encourage international cooperation in the field of higher education. An objective would be the adhesion of Switzerland to the Conventions concerning Universities, prepared by the Council of Europe and Unesco, aimed at realising freedom of movement for academics through all Europe.

From this account, you will see that something beneficial is being done in the field of education. We will of course keep you posted with developments.

The spring Skiing Camp

In our "Jubilee" year young Swiss living abroad will have a chance to attend the traditional Easter ski camp, which will on this occasion stand under the sign of the 700th anniversary celebrations. The programme will be devised to offer variety, and special care will be taken to ensure that the strength and ability of less experienced participants will not be over-taxed. So this camp will be enjoyed not only by skilled skiers but by beginners as well.

Date and Place: From Wednesday evening to Friday morning, April 03 to 12.04.91. Hotel

Le Bouquetin, Grimentz, Valais. Cost: Approximately 580 Swiss francs, including ski subscription ticket.

Camp Management: Edith Locher, teacher for sports and gymnastics and head of the SSA "Jugenddienst"

Conditions: Age from 15 to 25. Mother or father must be a Swiss citizen.

Registration: Deadline for applications is 18-02-91. Forms are obtainable from: Auslandschweizer-Sekretariat, Jugenddienst, Alpenstrasse 26, CH-3000 Berne 16. The number of participants will be limited to 60.
