A man, who has since been identified as the notorious British bank robber, Donald Brown, alias Donald Hume, entered the Rämistrasse branch office of the "Gewerbebank" Zurich. Jumping on the counter and brandishing a revolver, he demanded the handing over of the money from the cashier, who refused — whereupon he fired a shot at him wounding him in the stomach. He then attacked another employee by hitting him on the head with his revolver. An attempt to open a safe proved unsuccessful. Brown then hurriedly left the premises, hotly pursued by one of the Bank's employees and an apprentice.

Near the Oberdorf, a taxi driver, Arthur Maag (50) tried to stop the gangster but was shot at and killed. A cook (35) took over the pursuit and, tackling him, managed to wrench the revolver from his hand; then, with the assistance of some passers-by, he overwhelmed and detained Brown until the police arrived.

The cook who courageously stopped the murderer received a reward of 1,000.— francs from the police. The dependants of the taxi-driver who was killed will receive 50,000.— francs from an insurance taken out by the police. [A.T.S.]

A fire which broke out at the "Metallveredlungs Anstalt" at the Freilagerstrasse in Zurich-Albisrieden caused damage estimated at several hundred thousand francs. [A.T.S.]
