On the other hand, if you have so far refrained from joining for one reason or another, please read on.

The Fund was started by and for Swiss living abroad; it is a "self-help institution" dating back to 1958. Since then, the Fund has paid out several million francs to nearly 400 members, enabling them to start a new existence which they had lost due to war, political unrest and upheaval, including nationalisation effects and similar events.

We must realise, however, that the solidarity community can only help the one who himself made a contribution towards solidarity originally. And just in case you are still not convinced that such a contribution, such a gesture is worthwhile, we should like to remind you that, unlike an insurance premium, most of the financial contribution will be paid back. If you make a one-time payment, you get a full 100% back already after three years, should you wish your membership to cease. The money is safe; for an increase in membership in recent months has enabled the Fund to better its position, and its well-invested assets now amount to well over six million Swiss francs. In addition, the Confederation is a guarantor—what better security could one ask for?

To sum up: you make annual payments from between £2/9/0 and £39/4/0 which entitles you to a hundredfold compensation in case of loss of livelihood as described above. Or you make a one-time payment from between £44 to £708 with corresponding benefits. Your contribution towards the solidarity principle is that you forego the interest. That's all.

Please apply for detailed information to Embassy or Consulate or direct to the Solidarity Fund, Schosshaldenstrasse 14, 3006 Berne.

TOUR TO THREE LISZT

CONCERTS IN ITALY

Of special interest to Swiss in London

Concert goers in London know the Swedish pianist Lennart Rabes, resident in Great Britain, as a sensitive interpreter of Liszt's works. Members of the Swiss Church also know him as a fine organist whom they have the privilege of hearing play every Sunday.

Mr. Rabes will be playing at Viareggio and Pisa, and the European Liszt Centre which has recently been founded in London, is arranging an interesting package tour to cover the three concerts on 8th, 10th and 12th June, and various visits and excursions (including Florence).

Anybody interested should apply to European Liszt Centre, 12-14 Buckingham Palace Road, S.W.1. Telephone 01-834 7753 as soon as possible.

Surprising how rich
you feel, wearing
seventeen rubies
no one can see

Inside the 9-carat gold case of this tiny watch are hidden no less than 17 jewels—they are there for extra accuracy. The bracelet is woven of innumerable tiny strands of real gold—comfortable, flexible and strong. This model costs £52.10.0 and is just one of the collection of fine Omega watches — prices are from £26.0.0.

Fully illustrated catalogue and a list of appointed stockists available from:

Omega Watch Co. (England) Ltd., 69 Saffron Hill, London EC1.
