Thomas, Arthur: Farming in Hot Countries. 180 pp. ill. — London: Faber and Faber Limited, 1967. Sh. 30/-.

«Einer meiner afrikanischen Freunde sagte mir, er möchte ein modernes Buch über Landwirtschaft haben. Es gibt gute Werke über den tropischen Ackerbau, aber sie benützen komplizierte (long) Wörter; so habe ich versucht, ein Buch zu schreiben mit wenigen wissenschaftlichen Wörtern ... Ich hoffe, daß viele Leute Afrikas, Asiens und Amerikas das Buch lesen, genießen und daraus lernen können.» So umreißt der Verfasser den Zweck seines Werkes. In zweiter Linie wendet er sich an Leute, die in tropischen Ländern arbeiten wollen, sei es in der Entwicklungshilfe oder in einer andern Tätigkeit, die Einfühlungsvermögen verlangt. Für den Fachmann in tropischer Landwirtschaft
