plastic in form

steinfix® border profiles ensures green lawn borders

With steinfix the lawn along the sidewalks and squares remains green longer. The profile itself is not visible and replaces expensive concreting. Thereby gaining considerable time- and cost advantages for the horticulturist.

steinfix rund

Edgings without concrete, additionally secured with nails.

steinfix gerade

steinfix kombi

For refined lines in landscape gardening.

steinfix netz

Lends the stone firm hold with broad support.

IN TRANSITION

CAPE TOWN SOUTH AFRICA 2012

On behalf of the Institute for Landscape Architecture in South Africa (ILASA) and the International Federation of Landscape Architects (IFLA) we invite you to attend the 49th IFLA World Congress to be held at the world famous Cape Town International Convention Centre from Wednesday 5 September – Friday 7 September 2012.

As hosts of the IFLA 2012 Congress, ILASA promises to deliver a high-quality event that will provide an excellent platform for the presentation of papers, networking and the opportunity to visit local projects in our world famous host city. Cape Town is a city of great diversity; from the outstanding beauty of its iconic Table Mountain, to the incredibly rich fynbos vegetation and our melting pot of African, Asian and European cultures, making it a truly remarkable, cosmopolitan world capital.

The 2012 Congress programme and theme, Landscapes in Transition, will feature many high profile international speakers, workshops, international student competition and a trade show. IFLA 2012 will provide the perfect opportunity to forge new contacts or catch up with old associates as you network in a professional atmosphere around today's cutting-edge issues. There will be a variety of opportunities to contribute under our three congress sub-themes, namely: Natural-, Cultural- and Urban Landscapes in Transition.

It is expected that the IFLA 2012 Congress will attract over 600 delegates from the landscape architectural and built environment professions. Academic, private and public sector delegates will present research and experience from around the world for debate and discussion bringing you new insights into the latest thinking on these important subjects. The launch of IFLA's new Africa and Middle East region will also be a great opportunity to promote the exciting discipline of Landscape Architecture to their colleagues at home.

For more information email: ifla2012@icesouthafrica.com, turnia@molweniafrika.co.za or visit our website www.ifla2012.com.
