CALLING ALL SWISS IN SOUTHERN AFRICA

325 years have passed since Jan van Riebeeck landed at the Cape in 1652. Believe it or not, only a few years passed when the first Swiss followed in his footsteps, i.e., in 1666. This as well as many other aspects have come to light during preliminary investigations into

Swiss involvement in Southern Africa.

It has been established beyond doubt that the Swiss played an important part in the establishment of Southern Africa, particularly in the last 150 years. Activities in education, medicine, research and many others did bring fame to a great many Swiss.

We are presently collecting all types of information which might throw more light into the lives of our forefathers in Southern Africa. It has become obvious that many second and even third generation Swiss are obtaining this Review and it is particularly these people we are now looking for. We are trying to collate something, well beyond the frame of the various Swiss Clubs' activities. Thus your assistance is greatly needed.

Please contact us at the address below or phone the CHairman or Secretary of your nearest Swiss Club since we shall gladly come to see you. Do not think your information is unimportant.

Every bit of information is needed and important.

You might know friends who long ago have forgotten their "swiss connection". Please get them to write or phone us. The Swiss who usually assimilate very well to their country of choice - normally during first generation, latest during second generation - are plentiful in the Republic, but sometimes difficult to come by. Your help can make us achieve a goal, never yet tackled in this context. We are not only interested in reading material and photos, but are equally interested in personal accounts from our Pioneers children and grandchildren. Please contact us under

With our second birthday just around the corner, we can proudly look back on a short but successful history of our club! . Our membership is nearing the '100' mark, and all our events continue to enjoy a fabulous support. Some of the highlights in the first few months of this year included the Hitch Cup, won by Heinz Gabele. - The Mario Mai Cup, won by the 'sponsor' and his partner Margrit Burkhalter, and our Club champion 1978 – 3 - turned out to be Oswald Haas and Vreni Leutwyler .

In the Collins and List league we are engaged in a tremendous battle for first place between TIC-TAC boys and Iगतex and also behind the two current leaders an exciting battle for points is taking place.

This season will still see the popular Open Single Championship (August - September). The Bankers Cup for all teams engaged in the Collins and List league and the "Mammoth" Chairman's Cup.

Special Outings - Great Success.

The recently elected Committee of the Swiss Social and Sports Club has organized a number of special outings during the past few months, all of which have been a great success.

Uitkyk Wine Farm.

A coach tour to Uitkyk and Happy Valley Wine Farms was held on a gloriously sunny weekend and some 80 persons attended.

Wine was sampled, including many new vintages, and a delicious braai grilled on vine-stocks was enjoyed by all.

Rietmann's Polony Factory.

Kurt Rietmann, his son Kurtli and Gian Mani have recently opened a magnificent new Polony Factory at Maitland. This is a project involving many thousands of Rand, and has been planned by Kurt and his team.

Mr. F. Woolf, the Swiss Consul, Mr. W. Altenburger and Past Club President, Mr. J. Giezendanner, discussing the finer points of wine.

Mr. Kurtli Rietmann showing his father Kurt the new polony factory's latest product - their "Milano-tipo" Salami.

Production should soon reach the expected figure of 25 Tons of meat per week, with all the teething problems ironed out. It was thus a great privilege for the Swiss Social and Sports Club to be invited to be the first official group through the factory recently.

The factory is impressive, embodying some of the most modern equipment of its kind. The visit incorporated a demonstration of vienna-sausage making, and ended with the group tasting the range of Rietmann products. Finally on departure, all 90 participants received a Salami for their week-end larders.

 C A P E P E R S O N A L I T I E S ***

Alfred Schweizer arrived in Cape Town forty-one years ago. He had been recruited in Switzerland to join the South African team of the U.S.A. Brush Manufacturing Co. Ltd., which started a production in Cape Town.

Alfred (Freddie as he is known to his friends) had come from Ober-Entfelden near Aarau and he was soon at home in Cape Town which with its pleasant climate offered many outdoor hobbies and activities.

Two years later, in 1939, his bride, Alice arrived from Unter-Entfelden to join him and they were married in the German Church in Cape Town.

Both the Schweizers became thoroughly involved in the activities of the Swiss Club, he as Treasurer/Secretary for many years, and she as a leading light amongst the lady-helpers on the committee.

The Schweizers had two sons, George and Paul, and they together with other Swiss of that time, enjoyed the Annual Easter picnic on Brigadier Werdmuller's farm at Jonkershoek.

It is thus not surprising that Freddie together with his colleagues on the Committee at that time took the lead in erecting the picturesque chalet that serves Jonkershoek today.

At this time too, the Swiss Club founded its Rifle - subsection and Freddie took an involved part in its activities, not only as an excellent shot, but also as the "Schuetzenmeister" for many years.

In recognition of their long and unstinting services to the club, they were made honorary members during the 1950's but their contribution did not stop there!

Even today, while no longer officially on the committees, when there is a job to be done in the Swiss Club, Freddie and Alice Schweizer are there, not only in word, but also in action!

It is the calibre of Swiss such as the Schweizers that have made the Swiss Social and Sports Club the excellent product it is today!

THE CAMP AT SEDRUN
1977 / 1978.

This past Christmas and New Year, I spent in a lovely little village, Sedrun (Graubünden) as a participant on the camp for the Swiss living abroad.

Every morning we had ski lessons with such friendly and helpful ski-instructors. For those of us, beginners, who only skied at Sedrun, lunch would be waiting for us on our hungry return, then once our stomachs were satisfied, we would either just relax in the rooms or go for a swim in the heated indoor pool, play games or walk back to the ski-lift and ski our afternoon away again. At night we either had arranged games and entertainment or we would go skating, skittling or just have coffee somewhere. There was never a moment in which one had nothing to do - the music played loudly day and night and there was always someone you could talk to, joke with, or have a quick game of table tennis with. After a full day skiing, there was no nicer contrast than to play the evening away at "Master Mind".

As for the New Year's ball - we danced the evening away, had a lovely variety show, and at twelve o'clock we slid refreshingly into the New Year with champagne and snacks. At two o'clock we fell into our sleeping bags, already half asleep.

The next morning we got up early, cleaned the house with a spirit of enthusiasm and co-operation, and at nine o'clock we slowly took our bags, said goodbye to everyone and walked to the station, from where we went our separate way again, each one to their own corner of the world.

All this was possible - thanks to the Secretariate of the Swiss abroad and to Maurice Steiner and his leaders to whom I owe a big Thank You.

Doris Gorssenbacher (Pretoria).
