MELBOURNE

SWISS CLUB OF VICTORIA

89 Flinders Lane, Melbourne
Telephone: 63 1196

Helen and Urs Hoehener will no longer manage the Club's affairs. These two young compatriots put in a tremendous effort during the last 6 months, but decided in the end that the running of a Club like ours was not in their best interests, i.e. as far as their professional development and their future prospects within the Industry are concerned.

Whilst we regret their early departure, we nevertheless wish Helen and Urs a happy and successful future. We have been extremely fortunate in securing the services of TONI ERB who has taken over the reigns of the Club late in June 1983. We extend a hearty welcome to Toni who does not need any lengthy introduction.

With his knowledge of the Club it should not take him long to be back in action, despite several slight changes, e.g., we now have a semi computerised cash register which prints out every detail of what you have consumed. As a reminder to Members we now offer Credit Card facilities, i.e., we accept PLASTIC MONEY in the form of Bankcard, American Express and Diners Club.

Toni's return nearly coincided with the arrival of a new Chef, Swiss of course. As we have clearly stated in our objectives, the culinary art is top on our priority list hence we will not rest until even the slightest justified complaint is eroded.

"The Privileges of Members versus Privileges extended to Non-Members." We have always encouraged Members (in fact we still do), to invite their friends to join them for a meal or even attend one of our special functions.

Believe it or not, many Members are not happy that guests, i.e., Non-Members, enjoy on such occasions, the same privileges as Members. To cover this apparent inadequacy, the Committee decided to impose an admittance charge of $2 for each Non-Member attending one of our selected functions.

SWISS SCHOOL IS HELD AT THE CLUB ROOMS ON SATURDAY MORNINGS BETWEEN 9.50-12 NOON.

A Committee meeting was held on 18th June 1983 to elect a new Committee. Mr. Beat Herzog stepped down — thank you, Beat, for acting as Convenor for the year. The new Convenor will be Mrs. Alexandrou — welcome Madeleine.

Since last Swiss Review Vreni Weinmann delighted children as Märliante and Roman Sigel explained secrets of the Swiss Club. Stoffcollage, Globi and Raclette were also explored.

LADIES' LUNCHEONS

At our May Luncheon we were addressed by one of our own members, Mrs. Lorna Johnston, on "Aspects of Nutrition in Alcohol and Drug Dependence". This was an extremely interesting topic and evoked an amazing number of questions and discussions.

In the wake of this, on 13th July, Mr. Othmar Jaeggi of Camberwell Travel Service bravely came along to tell us about "The Many Faces of Travel". To address a predominantly "globe-trotting" group like ours on such a subject must have seemed a formidable task; however, Mr. Jaeggi found so many aspects of the travel industry to cover and made us aware of the different roles such a large number of people play in bringing it all together. So complete was his coverage, our talented speaker escaped the questions.

We are grateful to Mrs. Johnston and Mr. Jaeggi for giving us so much of their time.

Dates to be remembered:

Saturday, 5th November — Ticino Night.

A very successful National Day Celebration was held at The Abbey. A most enjoyable dinner-dance was had by all, interspersed with words of wisdom by the Swiss Club president, Dieter Loe-liger, our Consul, Paul Richter, the Bundespraesident's speech, our radio freak Kuno and the chairman of the Swiss Affair festival sub-committee, Alain Boehm. We were able to welcome all the representatives of the TV, Radio and Printed Media.

Alain Boehm then launched our Swiss Affair festival with his announcement of the date of the event which will be staged in a grand manner on June 9-11, 1984 at the Centennial Hall in Adelaide.

On the previous Saturday evening the children had their own celebration around the traditional bonfire with a Lampion-Umzug and brötlete Servalats on sticks.

The Swiss Affair

The Swiss Club of South Australia Inc. has decided to present an exhibition/event to highlight a broad cross section of the Australian public, Swiss cultural, social and economic matters of interest.

The activity is proposed for the Queen's Birthday weekend, June 9-11 1984, 10 a.m.-10 p.m.

Basic plan is not to follow the usual exhibition layout of rows of stalls/units but rather to recreate an approximation of a map of Switzerland.

Swiss products, designs, destinations, food, knowledge, culture, heritage, etc., will feature throughout the activity.

Entertainment will be provided by a range of Swiss cultural groups from traditional folk to classical.

The lottery tickets are on sale now and can be obtained from all the Swiss Club committee members, the Swiss Consulate, Elna outlets, Congdon Time Centre, Swiss Glory, Rita + Janos Hair-dressing, Swiss Coffee Shop and the Swiss Radio.

An enthusiastic group of ladies from within the Swiss Club as well as the Swiss community at large is meeting regularly to exchange ideas and material for handcrafts to be sold at the Swiss Affair. You are invited to join this informal group. Please come along one first Saturday of the month to the Swiss Coffee Shop get-together.

TARDENT FAMILY HISTORY

In February 1983 a remarkable book appeared in a limited edition of 314 copies: The Swiss Australian Tardent Family History and Genealogy, by Jules L. Tardent, Gold Coast City, 1982. This illustrated publication of some 550 pages gives a fascinating and detailed account of the most outstanding Swiss family to settle in Queensland. During his long retirement Mr. Jules Tardent researched and composed this rich and complex family history. It is more than just an account of a colourful and prominent family of French-Swiss origin, as it also throws light on many aspects of Australian social history. Regrettably it appeared posthumously, as the author had died on November 11th, 1982. The main object in undertaking this book was "to record in English most of the developments of our family since 1398 A.D. We know that from at least this date and probably from before 1231 A.D., our forebears were established in the Ormonts Valley, that is cradled by the Alps of Vaud Canton in Switzerland. The hope is that this record will arouse the interest, even the pride of the family members who read it in Switzerland, in Australia and wherever else they are. An additional hope is that some younger members of the clan may be inspired to continue with the recording of future data". Although Swiss immigrants have arrived in Australia in large numbers since the 1850s — there are now more than 10,000 Swiss here — very little historical research has been conducted. Even before Australia was settled, there was a Swiss contribution, as John Webber accompanied James Cook as his artist-scientist. In 1975 the then Prime Minister, the Hon. E. G. Whitlam, wrote a foreword for the yet incomplete Tardent Family History:

"The Australian nation is composed of many elements apart from the British. Although small in numbers, the Swiss have been excellent immigrants. One Swiss who became a good Australian while still retaining a strong love of his mother-country was Henry Alexis Tardent who established a family in Queensland in 1887 of which 300 descendants still survive. Many of them have achieved distinction in various fields.

"Before he came to Australia Henry Tardent wrote the first history of the Tardents, who are scattered over the world. This volume contains most of his family historical works and much that has been added by younger members in more recent years.

"From the time of his arrival in Australia until his death in 1929, Henry Tardent was intensely active in politics, agriculture and literary activities. He acted as an adviser in the early 1890s to the drafters of the Constitution. In 1898 he became a friend and supporter of Andrew Fisher, the first Labor Prime Minister of Australia. Around 1911 he helped the Government prepare the Act to establish a Citizen Defence Force. A street in Canberra was named after him in recognition of his work

"This volume has been edited, and some of it written, by Tardent's only remaining son, Jules L. Tardent, of Queensland. It should prove to be a useful demonstration of the values of cooperation, enterprise and hard work, and a reminder of one of Australia's most remarkable pioneer families."

Mr. Jules Tardent was always a great admirer of the Swiss and Switzerland and for many years he was an active member of the Swiss Society of Queensland. He spoke French with barely a trace of an accent, although he regretted not having spent more time in the country of his ancestors. With energy and tenacity he worked on a project many thought could not be achieved. It is hoped that this family history will encourage other Swiss in Australia to study their families and their participation in Australian life.
