How you will one day be younger for just a few francs a month:

Health insurance premiums are based on your age when you take out your policy. In other words: if you return to Switzerland one day and want to insure yourself against sickness and accidents, this will cost you hundreds of francs more than if you took out your policy now.

This is why, in co-operation with the Swiss Grutli Insurance Company, The Fund has created a policy which means that you will never be treated as if you were older than you are now. And at present this will cost you no more than a few francs a month. In return, the day you come back to Switzerland for ever the Grutli will provide you with an individual insurance policy without any reservations. At the premium rate to which you would be entitled today. In addition, you can take out temporary insurance on the same basis if you return to Switzerland for a holiday.

From 1991, the higher age categories for this type of insurance will be reorganised and premiums will rise as a result. So if you take up this offer before the end of 1990, you will benefit twice over: for you will also be admitted at the premium rate valid at the time you started paying. So the best thing you can do is to send in your application form right now.

APPLICATION FORM

Yes, please send me full information about the insurance scheme which will one day make me years or even decades younger than I will be then.
