Before I forget: this is your last chance to send me 1st of August pictures! Instead of individual articles I would like to publish in Swiss Review # 3 a centerfold with the nicest photographs. I expect there will be a lot of red and white and a lot of children!

By now you probably know that I am very fond of my garden. Springtime is so lovely with everything starting to green and bloom. Well, in Southern California gardens are nearly always green. Last year we potted a tomato plant. And now, beginning of March, it continues to bear fruit and to bloom. My husband said he should probably show it a calendar to let it know that winter was here! We also planted six strawberries. They have fruit but it's a fight between the birds, the slugs and us to see who gets to them first!

Maybe you were aware that the most successful Swiss movie of all times "Herbstzeitlosen" (Late Bloomers) was Switzerland's official entry at the Oscars for best foreign language film. Well - we didn't even get close to winning! But the Swiss Consulate General in Los Angeles arranged for a showing at Swiss Park. My brother had brought me the DVD, but the Swiss system didn't work on our DVD-Player. So we were very happy to see the film at last. You will find Doris Ritzi's article about it in this Swiss Review. And as always, I hope you enjoy all the articles and don't forget to have a look at the ads. You never know when something that is advertised might come in handy for you!

Die Herbstzeitlosen – The Late Bloomers

This wonderful film was up for Oscar consideration but did not quite make the nomination. However, in the opinion of the Swiss and their American friends who saw it in theaters across the United States, or at special Swiss events, it certainly deserved this honor. It was one of the most successful Swiss films ever seamstress in a lingerie store. This nurtures a little fire in Martha's head. With Lisi's encouragement she prepares to open "Petit Paris", a lingerie shop in Trub! This does not sit well with the villagers. Martha's son, the village priest, distinctly proclaims this would be sinful and she should rather devote the shop's space for the Bible courses.

produced and had Europeans roll with heartfelt laughter.

The tale is about four elderly women in a remote village in the Emmental. Martha, (Stephanie Glaser), central figure, has not only lost her husband but also all interest in her small general store. A customer reminds her a food item is already expired. So Martha cleans out her store with the help of Lisi (Heidi Marie Glossner). They come upon a box with fine lace lingerie, samples of Martha's work before her marriage as a respected corsetiere/

Hanni's (Monika Gubser), son, a business man and politician hopeful, wants to put his father in a retirement home so that he no longer has to drive him to therapy. This angers Hanni and she secretly takes driving lessons that have the villager's instructor in stitches. After her caring driving, she lands the automobile in a meadow; the dazed instructor needs a cigarette and Hanni calmly lights one herself.

The future does not look good for "Petit Paris" and the women hold council. It is suggested that they should embroider "Trachte"-Motiv, (motives on Swiss National dresses) on the lingerie. Frieda, (Annemarie Düringer), however, just learned that items are now sold through the Internet. Perhaps they should try this? They do and suddenly business starts boo-

John Bernhard
part of a serie called "Bodily Change"

The Council of the Swiss Abroad The recognized mouthpiece of the Fifth Switzerland

The Council of the Swiss Abroad (CSA) represents the interests of Swiss expatriates before the authorities and public opinion in Switzerland. This is why the media call it the «Parliament of the Fifth Switzerland». It has numerous major achievements for the Fifth Switzerland to its credit. The CSA gathers in Switzerland twice a year for a daylong meeting to discuss important matters concerning the Swiss abroad and to voice an opinion on current affairs on behalf of the Fifth Switzerland. The Council meets regularly in the spring as well as in late summer within the framework of the Swiss Abroad Congress. Between sessions, the Executive Board and the administration team deal with routine business.

Quite a success story !

There have been many achievements and the CSA has always played a decisive role in carrying these through : the inclusion of Swiss living abroad in the Federal Constitution (Art 40), maintaining optional old-age and disablement insurance (AVS/AI), livelihood protection thanks to the Solidarity Fund, several civil rights revisions, information to Swiss abroad with the «Swiss Review», promotion of training young Swiss abroad or the introduction of the right to vote by mail - all these deserve to be highlighted as major achievements. It is also thanks to the activities of the Council of Swiss Abroad that the presence of the Fifth Switzerland back home over the years has increased significantly. Of the Swiss nationals living abroad over 110,000 are registered on the electoral roll, allowing them to exercise their democratic right to vote. This is the equivalent of the electorate of a Canton such as Neuchâtel - a very sizeable electorate then, and one that continues to grow. It is therefore a vital task to protect the interests of these citizens abroad.

Do you know who is representing YOU?

Swiss citizens living in the United States are represented by five delegates and two substitute-Delegates. They live in Chicago, IL, Smyrna, GA, Scottsdale, AZ, Nutley, NJ, New Glarus, WI, Orangevale, CA and Cocoa Beach, FL. I sent them a questionnaire. In this and the next Swiss Review you will get to know them.

WAL BAUR

Meet the delegates who represent the Swiss of the United States:

Max Haechler

Born in Erlenbach/ZH
Origin: Graenichen/AG and Erlenbach/ZH
Lives in Paradise Valley, AZ
Profession: Owner of various European Automobile Dealerships (1962-1995), Honorary Consul of Switzerland, Phoenix Arizona (1978-2007)
Elected as delegate in 1988
Represents the Southwest US
CH-Sessions: always attends spring and summer sessions.
Max's reason for volunteering:
- Being able to gain firsthand information at the Council sessions and to participate in the discussions and the implementation of important issues affecting the Swiss Citizens living abroad.
- Given the opportunity to inform the Swiss Citizens living in my territory about the many benefits derived through the efforts of the Organization of the Swiss Abroad (Auslandschweizer-Organisation)

- Visiting with other representatives from throughout the world, gained as friends over the years through the participation at the semi-annual Council Meetings.

Suzanne J. Violet

Born in Zürich
Swiss Origin: Sottens, VD
Lives in Cocoa Beach, Florida
Profession: Business Broker.
Owns a Business Brokerage Company.
Elected as delegate in 1994
Represents the US Swiss from the South East.
Always travels to Switzerland for spring and summer sessions.

Suzanne's personal remarks: "I am also a Board member of the Council of the Swiss Abroad and as the only Boardmember living overseas I represent the Swiss living overseas. I enjoy my volunteer work, helping finding solutions, fighting for the cause, and meeting other Expatriates from all over the world."
About the picture: "I am wearing this wonderful hat to our Rotary meetings in the hot Florida Summer"

Peter U. Jordi

Born in Birrhard (Aargau)
Swiss Origin: Parents are from the Canton of Berne
Lives in Nutley, NJ
Profession: Air/Ocean Freight Transport Exec.
Elected as delegate in 1997
Represents the US Swiss from New England to Maryland (East Coast States)
How often are you able to travel to Switzerland for the Sessions? Two times p/a.
Reasons why Peter volunteered for this position: "To pay back something to the Swiss Community in this part of the world. I enjoy the sessions and visits to Switzerland, which I can combine with my business trips (all travel costs are covered by the delegates themselves). I also made nice friends from all over the world from delegates of about 65 countries.

The sessions are a lot about local politics and now with over 110,000 Swiss abroad voting regularly in their home country, Swiss politics and the sessions have become very interesting. I live in the suburbs of New York (actually in the state of New Jersey) and commute daily to downtown New York City by train and ferry. I am involved in va-
