REGIONAL NEWS

UNITED STATES

Editorial

Dear Readers,

I wish you a healthy, happy, and successful 2018!

Last year and unfortunately continuing this year has affected a lot of people with natural disasters. Many of them will be putting their lives back together for a long time. I want to wish them strength in their endeavour. As a reminder, you'll find a telling story on page 3.

On another sad note, I found out late that the former editor of this newsletter, Wal Baur, has passed away last year after a difficult fight with cancer. She will be remembered as a courageous and inspiring person.

On page 2 you'll find a brief overview of the responsibilities of the OSA (Organization of the Swiss Abroad) and the CSA (Council of the Swiss Abroad). I want to remind you of their importance for us Swiss abroad. You will find a list of the current delegates for the United States. I will feature them in more details starting in this and continuing in the coming issues. These delegates are our voice in Switzerland on issues critical to us.

On that subject, I'd like to give thanks and appreciation to a past member of the Council of the Swiss Abroad (CSA) who has dedicated much time and effort in representing us Swiss abroad in Switzerland. Suzanne J. Violet served for 23 years and has been involved with many issues as you can read below.

I'd also like to draw your attention to the last page of this issue for the 'Call for Heirs' ads.

EDITOR

Florida: Suzanne J. Violet Retires as Delegate for the CSA

Suzanne has served as a delegate for the Council of the Swiss Abroad (CSA) since 1994. She was elected to the Executive Board as the first woman and held the first seat representing Swiss living overseas that same year. All the other Board members were from Europe. She served as Vice President of the Executive Board from 2013 to 2017. In the 23 years that she represented us Swiss living abroad, she has been engaged in many very important issues. Following are a couple of examples of her involvement in her own words:

"I remember several big issues where I was contacted by Swiss citizens living in the United States and consequently took their problems, thoughts, and issues to Bern and told the Council and the Executive Board these stories."

"We were fighting for keeping the voluntary AHV/IV for the Swiss living abroad. I had contacted Swiss Clubs in my district in the South East of the United States and asked the presidents to ask around among the members of their Swiss Clubs if somebody would be impacted if it got cancelled. Several women came forward. I spoke with them personally and asked them to write me a letter about their case. Then I took the letters to the Executive Board meeting. We were collecting letters from all over the world and did not give up. Finally, Bundesrätin Ruth Dreifuss agreed that the Swiss living overseas could continue to pay voluntary into the AHV/IV under certain conditions. The Swiss living in Europe no longer have this opportunity."

"Questions how to vote came up occasionally and then about 13 years ago when Swiss banks were closing bank accounts of Swiss citizens living abroad especially in the US, the phone kept ringing and ringing. And again, at every Executive Board meeting I was reporting what I heard from my compatriots. It was an ongoing issue and we kept pushing and pushing the Swiss government to take action. It looks like that there is finally a solution coming in the near future."

Suzanne was born and raised in Switzerland. After a successful career in Switzerland and extensive traveling around the world visiting all five continents, she decided to settle in Cocoa Beach, Florida. There, she started her first company, The Swiss Link Inc., an international consulting firm that concentrated in the export of American goods to Europe in addition to construction, interior decorating, and remodeling. Subsequently, Suzanne founded her brokerage firm S. Violet International Business Brokers which specializes in selling business investments. Understanding the importance of listening to her clients' needs as well as the magnitude of the confidentiality involved, Suzanne focuses on finding each of her clients the right business and guides them through the whole purchasing process. From 2007 to 2017, she was also the general manager of a local boutique hotel with six clay tennis courts that needed remodeling.

As a member of the Cocoa Rotary since 1992, Suzanne has volunteered for many community events. She was a member of the Space Coast Tiger Bay Club and was among the founders of the Swiss American Chamber of Commerce, Florida Chapter. She was a board member of the Healthy Start Coalition of Brevard and its president for one term. In 2002 Suzanne was the president of the Florida Business Brokers Association, Central Florida Chapter and a member of the State Board. Suzanne served for 10 years on the board of her condo association in various functions to build up the neighborhood after a management company had run it into the ground. For four years she was the president of the Swiss Club of Central Florida.

We thank Suzanne for all her efforts on our behalf and wish her a well deserved "retirement" from one position while she's continuing to concentrate her efforts on her business at S. Violet International Business Brokers (www.svioletinternational.com).

Fifth Switzerland: OSA and CSA Responsibilities

Ten percent of all Swiss nationals live outside Switzerland (Fifth Switzerland).

Connecting the five Swissland is the mission of the Organisation of the Swiss Abroad (OSA) information and communication department. Using effective communication means, the department is in direct contact with the large public of the Fifth Switzerland, the official Swiss representations abroad, the various Swiss clubs and societies throughout the world, as well as the Swiss media and the members of the Swiss Parliament.

Serving the interests of the community of the Swiss Abroad is of utmost importance. It is the Council of the Swiss Abroad (CSA), supreme organ of the OSA, which assumes this task. The CSA is largely composed of delegates chosen from among the Swiss Abroad. The Swiss federal authorities recognize the CSA as the official voice of the "Fifth Switzerland". Thanks to the parliamentary group of the Swiss Abroad, which comprises almost 100 parliamentarians, the OSA has a direct link to the Swiss federal parliament. The greatest achievements of the CSA include the implementation of the Swiss Abroad Act and the introduction of postal voting for the Swiss Abroad. The OSA is currently engaged in political lobbying to introduce e-voting for the Swiss Abroad. The OSA also encourages its fellow citizens abroad to register to vote so that they can participate in political debates and have a voice in Switzerland.

Florida: Swiss American Club of Miami

September 4th, 2017 – everyone started to prepare for hurricane Irma: stocking up on food, batteries, water, etc.

September 5th – Miami Dade county announced that Irma is a category 5 storm moving in the direction of South Florida and listed the areas which had to evacuate. Our neighbors who have been living here for many years decided to stay, however, some had hotel room reservation close to the airport of Miami just in case. We put everything that could fly away inside. We waited in line at the gas stations which had still gas left with the police controlling the situation. Traffic was horrible, and everyone started to get anxious.

September 6th – more preparing and shopping. In the evening the Swiss American Club had their monthly “Stammtisch”. Plans on how to survive were shared: some wanted to leave but had no gas; one person could not get a car rented; one board member had decided to stay. A lot of people were leaving and at one stage I asked myself the same thing, but we decided to stay because we are in an elevated zone and a Hospital is in walking distance.

September 7th – we saw that the eye of the storm moved west which was a relief, but Miami Dade informed that zones A, B and C still had to evacuate. More people left by car, plane or moved into a hotel. By now no more hotel rooms were available in the greater Miami area.

September 8th – “die Ruhe vor dem Sturm” (the calm before the storm). Everything was closed because everyone was getting ready or had left, except for the Hospital ER which was packed with people who got hurt preparing their houses for the storm.

September 9th – our area experienced a pre-storm at 5:00 am; one branch of a tree fell on a car close to us. At this stage we bonded with our neighbors and we shared time, food and drinks.

September 10th – at 9:00 am the real storm started with wind and gusts up to 96 mph in our area; some parts of the city like Brickell were flooded. At 11:20 am power was out and at 4:00 pm we left the house for a quick check on the damage. Trees had fallen everywhere, and it felt so spooky with debris left and right. There were warnings on the radio to stay inside because of tornados and gusts.

September 11th – 9:00 am we started cleaning up. We got electricity back at 10:30 am thanks to the Hospital nearby.

There was a curfew every night until September 13th. The scary part was not being able to leave for any emergencies. No traffic was possible. We always had telephone and internet connection, but some people did not. Boredom started and the Jass cards were a blessing!

We called the elderly members of the Swiss Club in Miami to find out if they were ok. We found out that Karl Ochsendorf who came to the US in 1956 and has been a Swiss Club member for over 60 years was put in the hospital on September 12th. His breathing was labored due to water in his lungs, and the hot weather conditions inside his house (no A/C) made it worse. He was very happy to see Astrid Artho and myself at the hospital. His daughter-in-law had been looking after Loti and Karl and stayed with them during the hurricane.

Florida: Swiss American Club of Sarasota

Seven members of the Swiss American Club of Sarasota were engaged volunteers assisting the Swiss team members in the World Rowing Championships held during a 5-day period in September 2017. It was a large local event and we were pleased to be able to assist the local officials in its very successful completion. Another example of the full integration of this Swiss Club in local events.

In a week of great rowing conditions, over 900 athletes raced at the beautiful new rowing venue at Nathan Benderson Park. Twenty-nine countries headed home with World Championship medals. Italy left as the best overall nation. The Italians won nine medals, three of them gold. Their gold medals came in the lightweight women's quadruple sculls, lightweight men's four and men's pair.

For the women's single sculls, Switzerland took its first ever World Champion title in this boat class when Jeannine Gmelin won gold.

"It has been a fantastic week and congratulations to you, the athletes. You have inspired us, and we are all very proud of you," FISA President Jean-Christophe Rolland said at the close of the regatta. "To stage such a huge event requires a tremendous amount of work. Thank you to the organizing committee. You have delivered a fantastic World Rowing Championships."

participants enjoyed the festive event. Our guest of honor was Peter Zimmerli, the newly appointed Consul General of Switzerland in Atlanta. A big thank you to Peter Zimmerli for visiting us in Miami.

After the meal we all got up and sang Christmas songs until Santa arrived! The kids were fascinated and chatted with Santa while receiving a gift and their parents taking pictures. Once the party was to end, nobody wanted to leave. Everyone had a great time. The game room was a success for the kids as well as for the adults.

On October 11, 2017, we celebrated Lotti Ochsendorf's 90th Birthday. Karl and Lotti arrived in 1956 on board the S.S. "MAASDAM" - Holland-America Line. They have been involved with the Swiss Club in Miami for over 60 years. Lotti was the treasurer for many years. We are thankful for her services and like to extend our appreciation to Lotti and Karl for their membership through all these years.

Colorado: Swiss Society of Denver

Six-year-old Elin Martin has become the youngest member of her family to join the Swiss Society of Denver, and become insured by NASA.

She is the great-great granddaughter of Jakob Schmid and Rosa Anderegg Schmid. Jakob, age 20, and Rosa, age 16, came to America in 1909. They did not know each other at the time, but met and were married in 1912. Jakob, from Ebnat-Kappel of St. Gallen, was later joined by his brother Arnold. Rosa, from Meiringen, had lost her family in Switzerland, and came here alone to join friends in Buffalo, NY. The entire family moved to Denver because of the lure of the mountains, reminding them of home and the great climate.

Both Jakob and Arnold joined the Swiss Society of Denver along with their spouses, Rosa and Lillian, who joined the Swiss Ladies Club. Together with other founding families, the Schmidts helped create the club and the spirit of community that survives to this day. For this family, the Denver Swiss club has been a cornerstone of their Swiss heritage.

Elin's grandmother, Dianna Kremheller, has been a member for years along with her cousin Gladys Schmid. Dianna was one of the Swiss Dancers in the 70's, and along with her cousin has attended many meetings over the years. Elin and her brother, Asher, age 10, also a member, love to travel and have been to Europe. Elin and Asher look forward to their first visit to Switzerland to see family and are very proud of their Swiss ancestry.

Adrian, Dianna, Asher, Elin

Oklahoma: Swiss Club of Oklahoma

On September 29th, 2017, the Swiss Club of Oklahoma welcomed the Accordion Orchestra from Aesch/BL and the Jodler Group Schlossbrünneli from Moeriken/AG for a highly cherished performance in Tulsa Oklahoma. The group of 40 musicians and singers received an enthusiastic standing ovation from approximately 200 members of both the Swiss Club of Oklahoma and the German

American Society of Tulsa. We thank GAST for allowing us to use their facility. After performing the national anthems of the United States of America and Switzerland, both groups performed beautiful pieces of traditional Swiss folklore music as well as lively band productions which inspired some joyful dancing amongst a few folks. Following the concert, the Swiss Club members were able to mingle with the Swiss performers with food and drinks and for some good friendship. The event was very well received by all whom attended. We hope to see them all again!

Arizona: Arizona Swiss Society

The Arizona Swiss Society held its annual Christmas/Holiday Party on December 10 at the Paradise Valley Country Club in warm and sunny Phoenix. The event was the best in years. We have many people to thank. First Max and Elsbeth Haechler who were our hosts at the Paradise Valley Country Club. Then Susan Oake and Kurt Schittli who coordinated the event, took reservations, organized stockings for smaller kids, a few gifts for older kids (including one who is 99), and arranged the craft table. We thank Helene Block who personally quilted table decoration runners for each table which went home with their lucky winners. Thanks to Helene and David Campbell for managing the reception desk. Finally, president John Thornton performed a magic act for kids and adults featuring a floating table.

We also took in a donation for the Arizona Swiss Foundation which has awarded almost $49,000 since 1999 in higher education scholarships to Arizona students of Swiss ancestry. Hope 2018 is full of continued enjoyment of Swiss traditions, culture, and friendships here in the Valley of the Sun.

Delaware Valley: New Helvetic Society of Philadelphia

The New Helvetic Society of Philadelphia has organized an Annual Christmas Fondue Party since 1978. This year the event was attended by 191 members, including their families and friends. The first snow fall of the season added to the spirit of the holidays and brought even more warmth to the hearts of all the attendees. Santa Claus showed up just in time to bring smiles on the faces of the children and brought along traditional goody bags. The event was first started by Helen Philips in her house back in 1978 and has been growing ever since. This year a raffle was organized by the board members of The Swiss Benevolent Society and funds were raised to benefit college education and other programs. After enjoying the appetizers and delicious Fondue, the attendees indulged in a variety of finger-licking-good deserts. The event ended with singing of Christmas and holiday hymns and greetings.
