REGIONAL EDITION

UNITED KINGDOM & IRELAND

EDITORIAL

It is now urgent for all the Swiss citizens registered to the Embassy to cast their vote for the local candidates to the Parliament of the Council of the Swiss abroad.

■ In this issue, you will find the candidates' profiles and useful information to support your choice. Eight people have stood up to take on this significant role. Two of them, Franz Muheim and Loredana Guetg-Wyatt, have already been active representatives to the OSA parliament, while for the other five candidates, this is the first election.

■ This year, the Swiss community in the UK has the opportunity to vote online for their OSA Delegates. We are one of the first communities of Swiss abroad to enjoy this privilege. This great chance has been made possible thanks to the initiative of Ané-Mari Peter, FOSSUK's secretary, and her digital and print agency on-IDLE. The procedure is smart and easy. Either post the voting slip on page 3 or vote via the FOSSUK website.

EMBASSY NEWS: SETTLED STATUS

Reminder – Your residence status after Brexit: what you need to do before the 30 June deadline. The final deadline for registering for settled or pre-settled status under the UK's EU Settlement Scheme is fast approaching.

While 16,550 Swiss citizens currently residing in the UK have already secured their residence rights after Brexit, many citizens still need to register before the final deadline on 30 June 2021. We would therefore like to use this opportunity to kindly remind you of the importance of applying for settled or pre-settled status under the EU Settlement Scheme. This will allow you to continue living, working and studying in the UK.

Whilst you are still required to apply if you are married to a British citizen, you cannot and need not apply if you have British or Irish dual citizenship. For those who already obtained 'Indefinite leave to enter or remain' (ILR) prior to 2002, we recommend that you still consider applying under the EU Settlement Scheme.

For further information on the Scheme, on how to apply and where to get help, please visit the UK government website or the Brexit FAQ on the Embassy's website:

SURVEY & ELECTIONS: HAVE YOUR SAY

Not only is it time to vote for your UK CSA (Council of the Swiss Abroad) Delegates to represent your views, concerns and successes for the next four years, we are also conducting a survey to hear from you first hand.

Go to www.swiss-societies.co.uk/survey (it'll only take 5 minutes), and let us know how best to serve and address your issues and experiences. Only by taking part can we fashion our agendas – from the Embassy to Swiss Clubs to Delegate priorities.

ELECTION OF UK DELEGATES TO SERVE ON THE COUNCIL OF THE SWISS ABROAD (CSA) 2021–2025

Have you ever wondered how the Swiss who live abroad participate in and find out about which laws and policies will affect you? They are Delegates who represent the Swiss nationals who live and work in the UK on the Council of the Swiss Abroad (CSA). The UK has an allocation of five elected Delegates, based on the number of Swiss nationals living and working in the UK. Two of the Delegates are voted in by the Swiss Clubs who are members of FOSSUK at the next AGM in June, and three of the elected Delegates are voted in by the Swiss community. These are the eligible candidates who are standing for election to be voted in as a UK Delegate for the next term.

All candidates are on Swiss in the UK groups. Now it is your opportunity to vote!

Find out more about each candidate from short video interview clips at swiss-societies.co.uk/elections or facebook.com/ukswiss

ALEXANDRE LUCA ABBUEHL LIVERPOOL

Profession: Singer-Songwriter and Healthcare Professional

Member of: N/a

Summary: Born in Italy to Swiss parents we moved from Bern to Lucerne to Basel via Biel. I moved to Liverpool at 18 to pursue my dream of becoming a musician and now perform as 'Alex Luca'. My priority is supporting people who need advice in navigating through life in the country I now call home. I want to find ways to help our community who now face the same increasing challenges and rapid changes with Brexit and the pandemic that I do, as a Swiss living abroad.

Why: I first completed a music degree and worked as a musician until Covid hit. I re-trained and now work in frontline Healthcare. These experiences have given me an extensive understanding of the challenges people face when living abroad, from financial hardship, to navigating the benefits system, to immigration. Today Swiss in the UK face unprecedented challenges. I want to bring together the Swiss community in the UK and make everyone feel like they can always count on support and advice from their home country.

ANDREAS FELLER LONDON

Profession: Entrepreneur, COO

Member of: New Helvetic Society, Unione Ticinese London

Summary: Young. Dynamic. Dedicated. Brexit has brought much uncertainty, which should be dealt with in a proactive and efficient manner. I'm a good listener, open minded, and believe that my personal and professional experience will help me achieve our goals. I value the Swiss community in the UK and want to actively contribute to our well-being as a strong community abroad, with our interests well represented.

Why: It is in our common interest to maintain a strong connection with our home country especially after Brexit, with our voices and concerns represented. As a start-up business owner I understand the challenges faced when living abroad and would like to use my communication and negotiation skills to ensure the Swiss in the UK are being heard. It is important to participate and my agility, dynamism and passion for politics will ensure important issues are raised and addressed.

LOREDANA GUETG-WYATT POOLE

Supported by New Helvetic Society

Profession: Non-Executive Board Member, CEO and International Business Risk Consultant

Member of: New Helvetic Society (President), Unione Ticinese, Swiss Community.org

Summary: Born in Locarno, with my father from Savognin – that explains my surname! I came to the UK in 2004 to found a UK branch of an international company. I have 20+ years experience in Business Risk Consulting for FTSE 100 and have held several positions as non-executive Director. Currently, the CEO of an International Charity, President of New Helvetic Society and FOSSUK Treasurer. Married to Jonathan and we have a son, Lawrence.

Why: I have many connections and a deep understanding of the issues that Swiss in the UK are confronted with, having been involved with FOSSUK, a UK Delegate and Swiss Clubs for years. I aim to further support and to maintain (or improve) your rights and provide current information. I would like to see better representation of the Swiss Abroad in the current Swiss Parliament as well as introduce Italian as a recognised working language.

/guetg-wyatt-loredana-7812094

MICHELLE HUFSCHMID OXFORD

Profession: PhD in Medieval History at the University of Oxford, gaining business experience

Member of: Oxford Swiss Society, Swiss Friends of Oxford University

Summary: I grew up in Bern and studied in Zurich and London and live with my partner Sean in Oxford. Through campaigning against Brexit, membership of the Swiss Social Democratic Party and Oxford's Swiss Societies and working as a first responder to sexual assault and mental health crises for 3.5 years, I understand people's difficulties and future hopes. Open-minded and energetic I would like to bring my experience to how relations between the UK and Switzerland should be like in future.

Why: First, I want to continue to advocate for safe e-Voting, which requires a broad consensus and a multi-party coalition.

Second, I want to bring the concerns of Swiss in the UK to Bern, with a focus on the younger generation e.g. ensuring Swiss students qualifying for the lower 'home' fees at UK universities. Third, I want to keep an open ear for the needs of the Swiss during the economic and political aftermath of Brexit and the Coronavirus pandemic.

KOUASSI OMER KOKOU-TCHRI EPSOM

Profession: Talent Manager / Campaigner

Member of: City Swiss Club

Summary: As a former councillor in Epsom Borough Council and part of multiple British and Swiss Societies for 20+ years I have witnessed creation, successes and shortfalls. I hope to have the opportunity to bring forward the successes from these past and present societies. The future is about building from the past to create a brighter future. My family is from Bassa Engadina in the Canton of Graubünden. My wife, Katja, my two daughters and son have always held the importance Swiss Romansh traditions as heritage is a legacy.

Why: The aftermath of Brexit and COVID-19 calls for changes in legislation and politics in the UK. The challenging social and economic situations must be tamed by a thoughtful lobbying for the Swiss in UK.

Rebuilding will need strong voices to give impactful messages that represent and encourage a fruitful future for our Swiss Community. My experience in politics, as a local leader, and in the social-political scene in UK means that I have extensive knowledge and a unique viewpoint which is an advantage.

JONATHAN MING CHESHUNT

Profession: Strategy Manager in the Travel Industry

Member of: Ecole Hoteliere de Lausanne Alumni Stamm Great Britain

Summary: I have lived in 14 different places in 4 countries and truly embrace the benefits of multi-cultural living, arriving in London in 2014. I believe I could support Swiss in the UK due to the fact that I have a very extroverted personality and a pragmatic approach towards problem solving thanks to my background in hospitality and working in the travel industry. I now live in Hertfordshire with my family (and a beautiful little Schwiizermeitli).

Why: I came to London young, straight after the Ecole Hoteliere de Lausanne with a few pounds in a bank account. I had no clue what I was doing and struggled to find my footing. The Swiss community always shared knowledge and gave me the support I needed. I would love the possibility to give back and support the next generation of people who are drawn to the UK to make sure they can make the most out of the opportunity.

FRANZ MUHEIM EDINBURGH

Current Delegate

Supported by Swiss Club Edinburgh

Profession: Professor of particle physics

Member of: Swiss Club Edinburgh (Vice-president), Swiss Community.org

Summary: As a Professor at University of Edinburgh, I regularly travel for research to CERN, Geneva. My strong interest in politics led to 2 terms as a Delegate, serving on the Executive Committee, President of FOSSUK and membership of the GrünLiberal. I regularly comment on social media keeping our community reliably informed. I work to ensure Swiss politics pay attention to the Swiss Abroad and that we are not discriminated against exercising our political rights.

Why: I am a regular interviewee, contributor and commentator in Swiss and on social media and through my role on the OSA Executive Committee and Green Party candidate I have successfully communicated the concerns of Swiss living in the UK during the Brexit and the Settled Status agreement negotiations to the Embassy and the FDFA. I actively pursue e-Democracy, which is in its infancy in Switzerland. Re-election will allow me to represent, with honour, our 37,000 Swiss living in the UK at the highest level.

LAKSHMI SUNDARAM LONDON

Profession: Global health and gender equality expert

Member of: N/a

Summary: I believe I have the energy, passion and experience to effectively represent the interests of Swiss people in the UK. As an OSA delegate, I want to help change outdated perceptions of Switzerland, and to represent a vision of a vibrant, multicultural and forward-looking nation.

Why: I have spent my life trying to change the world, and believe I have the energy and experience to effectively represent the interests of Swiss people in the UK. In doing so, I want to champion a modern and multicultural vision of Switzerland.

As a Swiss student in the UK in the 1990s, I had to register with the police and couldn't work, and I want to do my part to ensure the Swiss are not forgotten in the post-Brexit era. Since becoming a parent, I also want to help my children build stronger ties to our home country. I have been a part of Swiss communities in Rwanda, the US and the UK, and know how precious this link to home can be.

BOOK REVIEW: A PASSIONATE AND SPECIAL AMBASSADOR FOR THE SWISS ALPHORN

Dr Frances Jones is the leading alphorn expert in the UK. As a passionate ambassador for the instrument, she is frequently invited to perform, give talks on and teach the alphorn not only throughout the UK and in Switzerland, but also in many other countries in Western Europe, besides far-flung corners of the world including Taiwan, Guatemala, Peru and Bolivia.

Frances has been featured on UK TV, BBC Radio and Swiss Radio. She loves playing for weddings and parties, she has also enjoyed playing at many events for His Excellency the Swiss Ambassador to the UK, including playing her alphorn for a private party given by the rock singer Sting, for the Queen of Jordan and during many other official occasions and festivals. She completed a PhD, that has been recently published, about the substantial influence of the alphorn on Classical composers.

Swiss Review: How did you fall in love with this special instrument and why?

Dr Frances Jones: Well, back in 2004, my husband spent a week in Geneva for his work. As a present he brought me a CD of alphorn music. It was wonderful and I listened to it over and over again. Soon after that I had a 'big' birthday, asked for my own alphorn – and that's how it all began. My son designed me a website, www.AmazingAlphorn.com, through which I get invitations to play and teach alphorn from all over the world.

SR: How many times a year do you normally go to Switzerland in order to perform the alphorn?

FJ: I spend every summer in Switzerland, from around mid-July to the beginning of September. I give lots of performances while I'm there, and I am an alphorn tutor for an annual alphorn course held in beautiful Diemtigtal in Berner Oberland. I've played in huge gatherings of alphorns in amazing locations – on Männlichen at the foot of the Eiger with 100 other players, and up above Nendaz, VS, with 120 players – these are wonderful experiences, especially for an English alphorn player. In Switzerland I now have a large number of alphorn-playing friends and colleagues, who invite me to play regularly in groups with them. My Swiss alphorn-playing friends welcome me into their community and I feel honoured to be accepted there. They love the idea that an English classical musician is championing something that is so special for them – the voice and soul of their land.

SR: What contribution does your new book make to the literature about the alphorn? Is this the first comprehensive book of this kind written in English?

FJ: Yes, this is the first book about the alphorn in English. It shows how much the alphorn has influenced not only visiting composers, but writers too. It shows how much the instrument is the unchallenged ambassador for the Swiss landscape, or you could say, the voice of the mountains themselves.

SR: Can you explain to us why you decided to produce a book for children?

FJ: I was surprised that no-one has ever written down the story of the actual use of the alphorn as it used to be, calling cows in the mountains. A young boy accompanies his uncle to the alp, and experiences this delightful world. The text is bilingual English/German. A Swiss friend has painted 17 beautiful full-page illustrations.

Further information can be found on her website, www.AmazingAlphorn.com

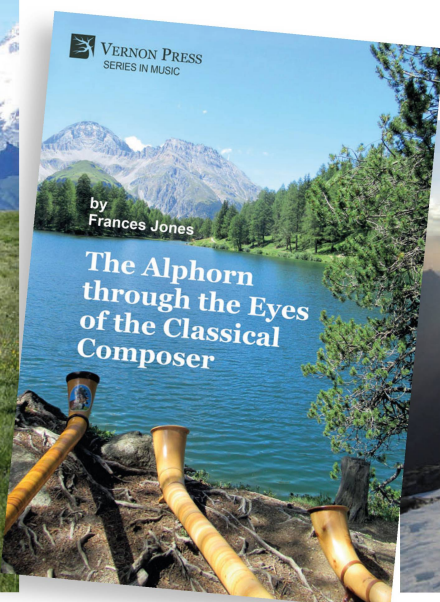

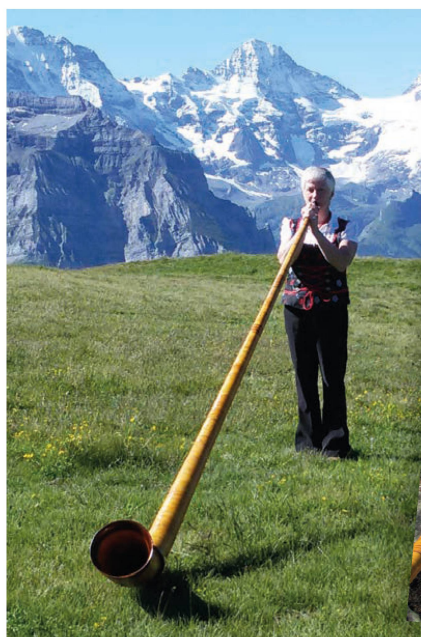

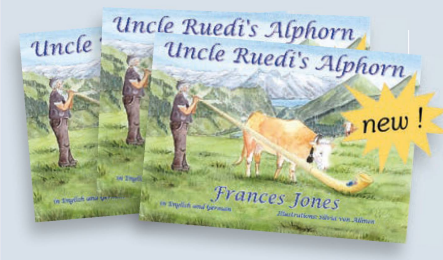

CHALLENGE – WIN A BOOK FOR CHILDREN

The first three children to answer these two questions correctly, via email, will receive a copy of the book 'Uncle Ruedi's Alphorn' written by Frances Jones.

Write to swissreviewuk@gmail.com mentioning 'Alphorn' in the email subject, your child's name and address.

ONLINE CAMPAIGN: THE 50TH ANNIVERSARY OF WOMEN'S VOTING RIGHTS

This year, International Women's Day has an historical resonance in Switzerland.

2021 marks the 50th anniversary of women's voting rights in our country, reminding us how recently this basic right was acquired and how urgently the social, economic, cultural and political achievements of women need to be publicised and celebrated.

The Swiss Embassy is working together with the Swiss Department of Foreign Affairs / Presence Switzerland and various Swiss Embassies around the world on the project «Women of Switzerland – A Country in 50 Portraits (Social Media Campaign)» 08.03 – 31.12.2021.

More info here www.houseofswitzerland.org/swissstories/history/swiss-women-polls. Please look out for more news on the Swiss Embassy's social media channels following the hashtag #WomenOfSwitzerland

If you have experienced a life change thanks to the women's voting rights in Switzerland or if you know someone who has a story to share in connection with this significant anniversary, please get in touch with Swiss Review's editor at swissreviewuk@gmail.com

SWISS CHURCH: A HOPEFUL YEAR 2021

We are grateful for the projects that we are still able to do at our church in Covent Garden.

TACKLING YOUTH UNEMPLOYMENT

In January, Camden youth Ryan Moshwe has joined our team for a General Business Administration internship. The internship is part of our collaboration with Camden Council and Camden Giving Grant 'Pathways into Employment'.

HANDWASHING SAVES LIVES: IT'S THAT SIMPLE THANKS TO GRAVIT'EAU

It is shocking to realise that at the onset of the pandemic, a staggering 3 out of 4 children were in schools lacking basic hygiene in countries with the greatest risks of health and humanitarian crisis due to COVID-19. But there is a low-cost and simple solution.

Gravit'eau is a mobile handwashing station designed for water-scarce and crisis settings which, compared to other systems, reduces water use by up to 99% per handwash – all without chemicals or electricity. Gravit'eau was co-designed by Terre des hommes Foundation in partnership with the University of Applied Sciences Northwestern Switzerland (FHNW), SKAT Consulting Ltd, MARTIN Systems, Cesvi Foundation and RANAS. Applauded as 'Outstanding' by the Korean World Water Challenge 2020, Gravit'eau has now won a prestigious Elhra Humanitarian Innovation Fund's (HIF) Journey to Scale grant with the support of Terre des hommes UK (Tdh UK). We are proud to forge relationships with prestigious partners such as Elhra and to raise global awareness of – and increase access to – this life saving innovation for some of the world's most vulnerable populations.

Elhra HIF has invested £580,000 to increase the reach of Gravit'eau. In the next 15 years, Gravit'eau could reach up to 2.5million people daily across 10 countries in Africa, the Middle East and Europe. This cannot come at a more critical time. COVID-19 has starkly demonstrated the importance of life-saving hygiene practices and the urgent need to increase access to safe, easy-to-use and sustainable handwashing facilities.

For more information about Tdh UK visit: www.tdh.uk or email us at ukoffice@tdh.ch

UNIONE TICINESE LONDON: FULLY ENGAGED WITH CLUB'S MEMBERS DESPITE THE RESTRICTIONS

Although Covid 19 has prevented members of the Unione Ticinese from gathering for their regular celebratory meals, it has not stopped them from meeting and enjoying themselves in different ways. Over the past few months, we have had an experimental quiz and, later in November, a concert of baroque music, just for ourselves. Two professional violinists, Florenza De Donatis from Locarno, and Andrea Rognoni from Cremona, playing together as 'A Due Violini', performed for us direct from Ascona.

A few weeks later the New Helvetic Society and our club combined, organised a San Nicolao party for children as we had last year – this time virtual but again we can report it has been well attended. With these successes behind us, we – or rather, our President, Emilie Martinoni Hoogenboom, for it is she who has taken the leading part in organising most of our online activities – got still more ambitious. From the very beginning our constitution, in its successive forms, has always contained a clause stipulating that we celebrate the date of foundation on 8 February 1874.

So, on 8 February this year about 50 participants were honoured to hear our Honorary President, Mr Ambassador Fasel, giving us the latest news about the consequences of Brexit before he toasted the future of the Unione Ticinese.

There was a chance to learn about the Society's history before the prize-winning folk-song duo Tacalà sang to us from Ticino. Finally there was the traditional prize draw, the tickets for the event also serving as tickets for the draw. We missed the shared meal and the human contact – but we can honestly say that Covid-19 has failed to daunt us! And we are preparing further virtual activities.

THE SWISS RAILWAYS SOCIETY: PUBLIC TRANSPORT LOVERS ALL AROUND THE WORLD HAVE THEIR CLUB AND MAGAZINES

The Swiss Railways Society (SRS) was formed in 1980 to bring together those interested in Swiss railways, both prototype and models. The SRS was founded in the UK and to this day the majority of its members (very nearly 1,200 at the end of 2020) live in the UK. The Society's original focus was on Switzerland's railways but, over time, the remit broadened to cover other forms of public transport and, of course, the scenery.

Indeed, there are many members whose technical knowledge of railways is slight but who love Switzerland in general and use public transport to see what the country has to offer the visitor.

The product that reaches all SRS members is Swiss Express which is a quarterly magazine, in colour and A4 format, provided free to members. It provides information, photographs, and easily understood technical data about new developments, as well as historical articles, not just on railways but other forms of public transport too. Over the last 10 years the Society has produced a series of books about Switzerland. There are 7 travel guides (A5 format) which between them cover the country.

There is a series of large (A4 format) books. These comprise a book about Swiss Lakes and one about the various forms of public transport up the mountains; a book about the postbuses and another about trams & trolleybuses; and two books about Swiss electric locomotives (one on SBB, the other about the various other companies). A book is in preparation, due for publication in November, about Swiss steam locomotives since 1900. The books are available to non-members as well as members. Details are at www.swissrailsoc.org.uk/shop

The SRS has seven local Branches in England where members can meet (pre-Covid), mostly monthly, and listen to talks or look at photographs usually about Switzerland. The Society normally holds an Annual General Meeting (AGM) each spring.

The 2021 AGM is scheduled for 24 April but because of Covid, it is likely to take place via Zoom. Again, more information on our website. In normal times the formal AGM, often held in Derby, is run in conjunction with an exhibition comprising some model railways and stands run by some retailers – mostly books, DVDs and model railway equipment.

If you'd like to try it for yourself, recipes for this and other Swiss specialties can be found at www.helveticitchen.com

120 g Quark or sour cream
100 g ham, finely chopped handful chives, finely chopped salt
pepper
1 tsp mustard
the zest and juice of half a lemon around 300 g puff pastry
1 egg, separated

Preheat oven to 200 C.

In a bowl, mix together the Quark or sour cream, ham, chives, seasonings, mustard, and lemon.

Roll out your dough into a circle. Slice into eight wedges and brush with egg white. Add the filling to the middle of the wedge, then roll it up.

Place on a parchment-lined baking sheet, then brush with egg yolk.

Bake for about 20 – 25 minutes, or until the pastry has puffed and the outside is golden.

Rendre un service d'ours

Bears have already been known as a strong but dim-witted creatures since the Middle Ages and in the 17th century, the French poet Jean de la Fontaine wrote the tale of a bear and his friend, who accidentally gets killed because the bear tries to kill a fly on his nose with a stone while he was sleeping. The saying 'En Bärendienscht leischta' is likely to originate from the French original as is the English equivalent 'Render a bear's service' meaning to do more harm than good with the best intentions.
