documentary material to the National Societies, at the same time laying stress on the provisions of the Geneva Conventions with regard to medical personnel.

This Section has also answered numerous enquiries from nursing associations and from private individuals. These enquiries related especially to the possibility of making interchanges between nurses in different countries, conditions of admission to nursing schools, the relative equivalence of diplomas and the dispatch of documentary material.

Furthermore, the ICRC headquarters were visited by a great many nurses and nursing students from all parts of the world.

War Disablement Section.—This Section distributed Braille watches for French, Finnish and Australian persons blinded during the war. It also supplied equipment to the Artificial Limb Workshop in Sarajevo (Yugoslavia).

It also handled a voluminous amount of correspondence from war wounded and injured civilians who raised queries of a very wide variety.
