In 1989, the ICRC again had to provide for a sharp increase in its operational activities around the world, expenditure for which totalled 367.9 million Swiss francs (including assistance in kind and in services). This was almost 50% higher than the previous year's total (246.1 million), which was already an increase of 41% over 1987. These new needs placed an extraordinary burden on the ICRC and the donors financing its operations. It was not possible to cover many of the operations completely and so a number of deficits remained. Expenditure under the headquarters budget, which was restructured as of 1 January 1989 and now covers all activities conducted at and from Geneva headquarters (but no longer those of the regional delegations), was 91 million francs (102.9 million in 1988).

With a total of 458.9 million francs (including 79.2 million representing gifts in kind and services), the ICRC's overall budget expenditure showed an increase of 31% over 1988.

	1989	1988*
	(In millions of Swiss francs)
Headquarters financial structure	91.0	102.9
Field financial structure	367.9	246.1
Total	458.9	349.0

As in previous years, Africa remained the ICRC's prime source of concern, representing 44.6% of total expenditure. This high level of commitment (37% more than 1988) is explained by the large-scale relief operations and the deployment of staff and equipment required on that continent, especially in Somalia, Sudan, Mozambique and Angola.

* The comparison between 1989 and 1988 is not entirely valid for each structure considering the transfer of activities from one to the other which took effect on 1 January 1989.

EXPENDITURE BY REGION
(including contributions in kind and services)
(FIGURE 1)

Total: 458.882 million Sw.fr.

* This heading includes all the following activities when carried out at or from ICRC headquarters:

- protection activities for victims of conflicts (Detention Division), Central Tracing Agency work;
- medical and material assistance, aid to National Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies;
- promotion and dissemination of international humanitarian law, information;
- operational management, support and management activities for ICRC work at headquarters and in the field, special extrabudgetary expenses.

A breakdown of these various categories of expenditure is given in Table III.

In Asia; the ICRC continued to step up its activities in Afghanistan, resulting in a major increase in expenditure there as well. Other operations in areas such as Sri Lanka, Myanmar, the Thai-Cambodian border and Cambodia itself, East Timor and the Philippines also accounted for the 32% increase for Asia over the previous year.

The volume of operations in Latin America changed little, whereas those in the Middle East (Israel and the occupied territories, Lebanon, Iran and Iraq) increased slightly (+ 12%).

Finally, the ICRC's mission to Romania in December received prompt and substantial support from donors, especially in the form of contributions in kind and services. These accounted for most (over 24 million francs) of the amount spent in 1989 on that operation.

Material and medical relief work (up by 54% and 41% respectively) represented the biggest increase in 1989, with 251 million francs or 55% of the total volume. Protection work and the Central Tracing Agency (visits and other activities for displaced persons and persons detained or placed in camps) also rose by 6% over 1988 (this naturally relates only to staff costs).

Aid to National Societies also rose by 18% from 9.8 million in 1988 to 11.6 million in 1989. Activity under the heading "Operational support" (for the delegations) showed an increase which was due mainly to the inclusion in the field financial structure of all the regional delegations. Because of the type of activity carried out by those delegations their operating costs are obviously higher.

As part of its policy to take into account the financial risks entailed in operational work and the needs that can arise in that respect, the ICRC in 1989 continued to make provision for operational risks, staff commitments, work in progress and the fund for investments in real estate.

Statement of income and expenditure and balance sheet (Tables I and II)

Faced with the sharp increase in urgent needs in the field, the ICRC launched a two-pronged campaign to reduce costs, especially at Geneva headquarters, and to supplement its resources.

As a result, expenditure at headquarters fell by 8% and income rose by 11% over the initial budget estimates. The situation in the field was less favourable and despite cuts in expenditure made in all delegations, considerable deficits remained at the end of the year: total expenditure stood at 288.7 million, whereas contributions received amounted to 256.7 million (10.3 million of which had been earmarked for specific operations and, not having been used in 1989, had to be carried forward). These deficits came to 32 million francs, but were reduced to 22.7 million by transferring 9.3 million from the headquarters financial structure.

EXPENDITURE ACCORDING TO TYPE OF ACTIVITY

The balance sheet reflects the considerable increase in these deficits, as the amount entered under "Operations with temporary deficit financing" rose from 3.1 million at the end of 1988 to 23.1 million at the end of 1989.

The temporary financing of these deficits diminished the ICRC's working capital, as can be seen in the entry "Other investments", which dropped from 41.4 million to 23.9 million (- 17.5 million).

On the assets side, the growing volume of operations in the field resulted in a rise in the amount advanced to delegations (+ 6 million) and, under liabilities, a rise in other accounts payable, which mainly pertain to suppliers (+ 5.3 million).

"Provisions" and "Funds for investment" show a steep rise on the balance sheet (+ 11.9 million), reflecting the above-mentioned policy to provide for operational risks and needs. It should be pointed out that this increase in the ICRC's own resources is significantly exceeded by the higher 1989 deficits (+ 20 million) for operations entered in the assets column.

Financing

An appeal was sent to the governments of all the States party to the Geneva Conventions and to all the recognized National Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies to help finance the ICRC's headquarters budget in 1989.

Though the governments' total contribution rose by 8.48% over 1988, the number of countries contributing to the headquarters budget for 1989 dropped from 88 to 79.

At the same time, the number of National Societies making contributions rose from 70 to 72, and the total of regular contributions showed a 11.2% increase. The amount requested from the National Societies was set, as usual, by the Commission for the Financing of the ICRC. The Commission, composed of 12 National Societies and chaired by Dr. Rueda Montaña, President of the Colombian Red Cross Society, met twice in Geneva in 1989.

In Switzerland, the ICRC maintained and strengthened its contacts with the country's public organizations and with the Swiss private sector. A personalized appeal was sent out at the end of the year.

Contacts with international organizations, notably with the Inter-Parliamentary Union, were maintained. At its 40th ordinary session, the Parliamentary Assembly of the Council of Europe adopted a resolution calling, among other things, for financial support for the ICRC and the Movement as a whole.

However, the ICRC had some difficulty in financing its field activities in 1989. The marked rise in the volume of operations in certain countries, particularly in southern Sudan, brought serious financial problems in mid-year, with a considerable shortfall in contributions received or pledged as compared with expenditure.

The ICRC President launched a special appeal in July 1989 to the foreign ministers of the main donor countries and contacts were maintained to this end in the respective capitals and at the permanent missions in Geneva.

At the same time, extensive efforts were made to rationalize the institution's work and reduce expenditure without detriment to the victims.

A combination of greater generosity on the part of the donors and savings by the ICRC enabled the anticipated deficits to be significantly curtailed, although they remained extremely high.

Audit

The ICRC's accounts for the financial year 1989 were audited by the Société Fiduciaire Générale S.A., as certified by the letter on page 163 of this report.

As in previous years, each account for the specially financed operations was audited by the international firm of auditors KPMG Peat, Marwick and McLintock. The audit reports will be sent to donors in the course of 1990.

ESTABLISHMENT

In 1980, at the initiative of the ICRC, to commemorate the services rendered to the Red Cross by the German Empress Augusta, wife of Wilhelm I.

OBJECT

Modified on several occasions.

At the Twenty-first International Conference of the Red Cross, held in Istanbul in 1969, it was decided that, pending further modification, receipts from the Augusta Fund would be allocated to the Florence Nightingale Medal Fund. This decision was confirmed at the Twenty-second Conference, held in Tehran in 1973.

ADMINISTRATION

In view of the above decision, the same as for the Florence Nightingale Medal Fund.

ESTABLISHMENT

In accordance with the recommendations of the Eighth International Conference of the Red Cross, held in London in 1907, and with the decision of the Ninth Conference held in Washington in 1912, a fund was established by contributions from National Red Cross Societies.

The regulations were revised by the Eighteenth International Conference of the Red Cross, held in Toronto in 1952.

OBJECT

The Fund's income is used to distribute a medal, called the "Florence Nightingale Medal", to honour the life and work of Florence Nightingale.

The medal may be awarded to Red Cross nurses and voluntary aides for having distinguished themselves by their service to sick and wounded people in time of peace or war.

The medal is awarded every two years by the ICRC on the basis of proposals made to it by the National Societies.

The medal comes with a parchment diploma. Only 36 medals may be distributed at any one time.

ADMINISTRATION

A Commission composed of:

- three ICRC representatives;*
- one League representative.*

REPORT OF THE STATUTORY AUDITORS

for the year ended December 31, 1989

to the assembly of the

INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE OF THE RED CROSS, Geneva

As statutory auditors of your association we have examined the financial statements for the year ended December 31, 1989, in accordance with the statutory and regulation provisions.

We have come to the conclusion that

- the balance sheet and income and expenses account are in agreement with the books,
- the books of account have been properly kept,
- the financial position and the results of operations are presented in accordance with the legal valuation principles and the provisions of the statutes.

Based on the result of our examination we recommend that the accounts submitted to you be approved.

The income and expenses account include a column which sets out the gifts in kind or of services received by the ICRC. This consists of statistical information not recorded in the books of account, in respect of which we have not carried out any verification.
