INTERNATIONAL ADVISERS

Since 1984, the ICRC has held two meetings a year with a dozen leading international figures selected for a four-year period to advise the institution on operational matters, on the application of international humanitarian law and on the ICRC's place within the international community.

In 1995, this group of international experts met in March and September. Its discussions focused on preparations for the 26th International Conference of the Red Cross and Red Crescent, communication in the humanitarian sphere, displaced persons, the question of the protective emblem and various operational matters. As its mandate was coming to an end, the group also reviewed the work it had accomplished over the past four years.

Advisers for the period 1992-1995:

Ambassador Shafei Abdel Hamid, Chairman of the Arab Commission on Human Rights, Cairo.

Ambassador Mohammed Ennaceur, Permanent Representative of Tunisia to the UN, Geneva.

Ambassador Rosario Green, Assistant Secretary General for Political Affairs, UN, New York.

Ambassador Ahmad Kamal, Permanent Representative of Pakistan to the UN, New York.

Judge Abdul G. Koroma, International Court of Justice, The Hague.

Ambassador Jonathan Moore, Fellow, Center for Naval Analyses, Alexandria (Virginia), Special Adviser to the Administrator of the UNDP, New York.

Professor Fasil Nahum, Special Adviser to the Prime Minister of the Transitional Government of Ethiopia, Addis Abeba.

Ambassador Hisashi Owada, Permanent Representative of Japan to the UN, New York.

Ambassador Rafael Rivas Posada, Bogota

Ambassador Dimitri Ryurikov, Political Adviser to the President of the Russian Federation, Moscow.

Ambassador Benedikt von Tscherner, Head of the Swiss delegation to the OSCE, Vienna.

Lord Wright of Richmond, Member of the House of Lords, London.

In December, the ICRC Assembly appointed a new group of twelve international advisers for the period 1996-1999.
