An English woman, Mrs. Beryl McCarthy, was awarded the Zurich silver life saving medal. Last April she dived, fully clothed into the lake of Zurich in an unsuccessful bid to save a drowning man. (A.T.S.)

The medical practitioners of the canton of Zurich have gone on strike. Some time ago, a dispute had arisen between the doctors and the "Verband der Krankenkassen" with regard to the fees to be paid. As no satisfactory solution could be found, the medical practitioners have refused to attend the members belonging to the "Krankenkassen." (A.T.S.)

A memorial service was held on Friday, May 9th, at the Mittelholzer monument at Dubendorf on the occasion of the 10th anniversary of his death. Amongst those who attended the simple but impressive service, were the managers of Swissair, E. Groh, Dr. G. von Meiss, and E. Bethge, as well as the wife and son of the late aviator and members of the staff of the company. Colonel Edwin Schwarzenbach, a member of the Board of Swissair, and a personal friend of Mittelholzer, paid a moving tribute to the great aviator, and placed a laurel wreath on his resting place. (A.T.S.)

The old, old tale of a rich uncle in America, still finds believers. A twenty-five year-old married woman in Zurich, who has been arrested, has managed within three years to swindle three people to the tune of 150,000.-frs. (100,000.-frs. in one case and 50,000.-frs. in two other cases). This expectant heiress kept an expensive establishment and entertained lavishly. Her husband an artist (stateless) will be charged with complicity. (A.T.S.)

From Zurich comes the news of the death of Dr. Hermann Stoll at the age of 84. The deceased was one of the founders of the well-known Maggi concern in Kempthal.
