Cowbell Competition Semi Finals, Kaukapakapa, Auckland.

On Sunday, 2 April, the Hamilton delegation arrived promptly at 10am, and were welcomed by our Auckland man in charge of Bowling, Henry Werffeli.

- The Auckland delegation was not long behind, and serious competing was soon established.

Auckland shone in Shooting and Kegeln, but as the more powerful shot-putters were not present, the Steinstossen did not go our way. As for the Jassen, well...

A recruiting trip to Hamilton was mentioned, and even words like 'the sack' were whispered with regards to our Auckland team.

Say no more. After overall 2/2 results (Shooting and Kegeln won by Auckland; Shotput and Jassen won by Hamilton), the Jassen then decided the final score with an added match after lunch. Congratulations Hamilton. The finals will be held in conjunction with the AGM of the Swiss Society in Auckland, at Queens Birthday Weekend. A real Swiss lunch was provided for all, with lovely cakes made by the many dedicated people. Thank you to the loyal members who made the effort for this occasion.

Wandertag Rangitoto 19th March 2000

Even though we are coming into the winter months the weekends lately have been fantastic. I was looking for something different to do and happened to open the Helvetia magazine to see Wandertag. There is no better way to spend a Sunday than in the fresh air, seeing the beautiful sights Auckland has to offer and spending it with family and friends. The meeting place was at 9.15am at Pier 3 on the waterfront downtown Auckland (home of the America's Cup). Being new to the club I was searching for familiar faces. First I saw Rita then Trudi. A few of us took the train up the volcano which helped us out by taking our food up to lighten the load. I met Max Bachman who I found out had many years earlier known my father Dolfi who passed away last year. The walk was very pleasant as there are a lot of trees to provide shaded cover from the hot sun. The view at the top was a breath taking 360° view, just awesome. We had built up a hardy appetite by now so we opened our packs and chilly bins and had our picnic. On the way down we stopped for a group photo. Further down we stopped at a place where you could make a short detour to see some caves but beware of the scary MONSTERS (for those little ones that can't read). Just joking, it was so peaceful. It was very eventful on the way down Rangitoto. One of the guys lost his cell-phone and someone else from our group rang the number and a young boy answered it. The young boy at that stage was on the ferry to Auckland, so we asked him to leave it at the Fuller's Cruise office. We were almost at the bottom when I thought I would have a sit down and have my apple while I waited for Rita, her son, Trudi and Max. I waited a few minutes then finally Rita, her son and Max come around the corner. I asked "where is Trudi" and they said, "oh we think she is making a toilet stop". After a while we started to worry a little. Max decided to go back up and see where she was. I waited a few minutes more then I heard voices. I asked Trudi what had happened she mumbled under her breathe. I said what did you say, she said "I fell asleep". We all laughed. Hope you had an early night that night Trudi. Did you beat your children to bed that night? I think everyone had a very pleasant and relaxing time (for some maybe too relaxing) and hope we can do another Wandertag again soon.

GERMAN PLAY

The Department of Germanic Languages and Literature, University of Auckland, would like to introduce this year's German play, "Reigen".

"First tell me, do you really love me?"

Arthur Schnitzler's "Reigen" (round dance) was written in Habsburg, Vienna in 1896/97, published in 1903 and was first performed by Max Reinhardt's "Kleines Schauspielhaus" in Berlin the day before Christmas in 1920. The successful play was banned, however, because it challenged conventional drama by addressing issues which were social taboos. Subsequently it was not performed again until 1982. The round dance symbolises the play's linked sequence of romantic encounters in which every character betrays and is betrayed. Thus Schnitzler addresses the poverty of double standards and shows how these can take place at all social levels. "Reigen" is an entertaining satire. It uses humorous dialogue to underscore how mismatched human romances can be.

Schnitzler's "Reigen" is directed by Stephan Resch and co-director Stefan Söhnchen, and performed by a talented and enthusiastic cast of students of the Department of Germanic Languages and Literature, University of Auckland.

Performances will be held in the University's English Department

Drama Studio from May 8 to May 13. There will be six evening performances at 7.30 pm and additionally four matinées at 12.30pm on Tuesday May 9, Wednesday May 10, Friday May 12 and Saturday May 13

Interclub Semifinal Competition

On Sunday, 2 April, a small but very strong team of nine people headed to the Swiss Farm, Kaukapakapa. Arriving at 10 o'clock sharp by Swisscraft van, the competitions commenced.

By lunchtime, we realised we were not such the strong team, or perhaps just not a particularly lucky team? The shooting we had already lost, and we managed to lose the bowling big time! However, shotput and

So with the semi-final under our belts, we proceeded to enjoy our afternoon tea. Past Events....

7th April was a memorable day in the history of the Wellington Swiss Club. The keys to our own Club house were handed over. If it hadn't been for Robert Macdonald and Hans Glauser it wouldn't have happened. Thank you very much, Robert and Hans.

8th April saw Peter Hynes and Roland Schütz arrive with stacks and stacks of our dear orange chairs, and a few boxes found their way from Ohariu Valley to Wainuiomata, too.

On 12th April Peter Hynes and Roland Schütz got our tables and many more boxes from Ohariu Valley and what would we do without Peter Hynes and his truck?

Heinz Jäggi came with his big trailer and got rid of all accumulated weeds and other rubbish, so all was ready for our AGM, 15th April, first AGM in our new Club house at 21 Moores Valley Rd. Wainuiomata. Almost 40 members attended the AGM a record for quite a while. The official meeting went well. Roland Schütz, though overworked and obviously affected by the 'flu' did a splendid job. The year 1999 / 2000 was an eventful year, Wellington winning the cowbell, hosted the Swiss Society's AGM and celebrated the end of the Millennium and then had to say goodbye to Ohariu Valley, and find a new home for the club. A lot of work is still ahead of us - let's hope the enthusiasm doesn't leave us and we find the money for repairs and alterations.

Max Fuhrer, our Patron, presided over the meeting for the elections. Roland Schütz, President, Ruth Messmer, treasurer, Trudi Brühlmann, secretary, Jeanine Macdonald, committee members, were re-elected, and Heinz Jäggi, Verena Madgwick, Marlene Rüegg were elected as new committee members. Roland Schütz took over again, thanking for the re-election, welcoming the new members and thanking the retiring committee members Monika Sörensen, vice president Christine Alderdice and Marianne Walti for their hard work during past years. Monika Sörensen's cooking and organising skills will be sorely missed!

Under 'General business' questions about our new Club house were clarified. Membership fees will remain the same 10 $ per person for the club, 25.— per address for the 'Helvetia'. As our kitty is alarmingly empty, all members will be asked for a donation of 10.— per person to help with renovation costs.

The best 'Jassers' of the Winterjassen were given prizes; as there were so many winners, they only received a Cadbury chocolate each. Max and Rosina Fuhrer, André Schleicher, Lotti Napp, Peter Fischer; and Peter's Partner. Walter Hartmann missed out on a chocolate since he is overseas.

The meeting finished in time for a cup of coffee and a rich selection of delicious cakes - thank you, Rosina Fuhrer, Christine Alderdice, Marianne Walti, Vreni Madgwick. And since cards and 'Jassteppiche' were also in amongst the second truckload, guess how some members finished the evening?

Let's hope the congenial atmosphere will continue.

Year 2000 Exhibition at Canterbury Museum. Many thanks to Jolanda and Freddy Tschopp for their generous offer to lend 'treasured items' representing our Swiss Culture. Exhibition planning is well underway - there will be three exhibitions showing about 30 different cultural groups from the Canterbury region. We, the Swiss, are in the third group, which exhibits from early November to early December 2000. The theme is the celebration of cultural diversity - and should not only attract adults, but also children in school groups. For this reason, our exhibits will not only focus on traditional costumes, but will also include 'Schellen-Ursli', a character from a famous children's book.

If anyone has any item(s) to lend for the duration of the exhibition, or can contribute to live performances or demonstrations, please ring Helena Duff, ph. 332 6702. All exhibits will be behind glass or mounted, so will be completely safe. Any other suggestions as to how we can portray our country and culture are most welcome. HD
