Mountain records

If the Swiss want to boast about their mountains, they can find a few reasons:

They have more high peaks than any other country in Europe: 48 over 4000 meters.

They lay claim:

- to the highest railway station in Europe, the Jungfraujoch, at 3454 m.
- to the highest cableway in Europe, Zermatt VS, ending at 3,883 m
- to the highest gravity dam wall in the world, Grande Dixence VS, at 285 m
- to the highest permanently inhabited village in Europe, Juf GR, population: 30, at 2126 m
- to the highest vineyard in Europe, Visperterminen VS, at nearly 1200 m
- to the highest brewery in Europe, Monstein GR at 1600 m
- to the highest tram in Europe, Zermatt VS at 2222 m
- to the highest museum in Europe, St Gotthard Pass, at 2100 m
- to the highest exterior elevator in Europe, the Hammetschwand lift to the top of Bürgenstock NW, 153 m

They also have:

- the steepest cog railway in the world, the Pilatus Bahn at 48% (and it's also the oldest cog railway in Europe)

- the steepest funicular railway in the world, the Gelmerbahn at the foot of the Grimsel Pass - in places 106%

Gelmerbahn at the foot of the Grimsel Pass

- the steepest road used by coaches in Europe, 28%, from the Kander to the Kien Valley in the Bernese Oberland
- the longest glacier in Europe, the Aletsch VS, about 23 km
- the longest continuous cogwheel railway in the world at the Wengernalp BE, just over 19km
- the longest chairlift over a glacier in Europe, the Furkgsattel-Express, 2,600 m, which has its valley station in Zermatt and mountain station at the Furkgsattel in Italy

Recommended airlines are clearly marked with a cross.

QUALITY, SWISS MADE.

Quality: we owe it to the symbol painted on our aircraft. The Swiss cross stands for high quality standards in all we do to live up to our commitment. SWISS received the 2007 Business Traveller Award distinction of Best Airline for European Service. Particularly noted as outstanding were the airline's cabin crew, cabin comfort, lounges and service on the ground. Contact your local bonded Travel Agent for further information on SWISS airfares.
