FOURTH INTERNATIONAL MYCOLOGICAL CONGRESS

Under the auspices of the International Mycological Association and sponsored by the Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft

President: J. Poelt, Graz

Vice Presidents: H. Kreisel, Greifswald; M. Moser, Innsbruck; E. Müller, Zürich
Secretary General: A. Bresinsky, Regensburg

The Fourth International Mycological Congress will be held from 28th August (Tuesday) to 3rd September (Monday), 1990 at the University of Regensburg. The aim of the Congress is to provide opportunities for discussion of all branches of mycology.

The working language at the Congress will be English. No translation service will be provided. Abstracts must be submitted in English.

Scientific Programme

The Congress will include general lectures, symposia, poster demonstrations and films. The general lectures will include a broad variety of topics of general mycological interest, and most major groups of fungi will be covered in the symposia. Facilities will be available for Special Interest group meetings, workshops and round-table discussions organized by individuals outside the framework of the main symposia. The scientific programme has been subdivided into 7 sections (Organizers in brackets):

- A Systematics and Evolution (F. Oberwinkler)
- B Morphology and Ultrastructure (R. Agerer)
- C Ecology (J. Webster)
- D Genetics and Physiology (U. Stahl)
- E Biotechnology and Applied Mycology (P. Präve)
- F Pathology (J. Schwinn)
- G General Topics (B. Hock)

General Lectures and Symposia

General Lecturers and Symposium speakers will be specially invited by the Organizing Committee (Organizers: J. Poelt; M. Moser; J. Webster).

A Second Circular will be sent to those who return the preliminary reply form. It will contain details of the programme including field trips and sightseeing tours, as well as forms for final registration.
