ART YEAR

THE ANNUAL EXHIBITION GUIDE

1 9 9 2

ARTYEAR is the first complete annual guide to exhibitions of art and architecture in museums the world over. With two easy-to-use listing, the first arranged week by week, the second city by city.

ARTYEAR gives advance notice of the most important events in Europe, the Americas and the far East, providing up-to-date information also on permanent collections and the names and roles of curators.

ARTYEAR is revised annually, in the autumn of the year preceding that of publication. Information is obtained directly from the institutions listed and reflects their official exhibition program.

ARTYEAR is available at art bookshops and museum bookshops in Europe, North America, Japan, Australia and New Zealand, or directly from the publisher.

ARTYEAR è la prima guida completa annuale di mostre di arte e di architettura nei musei di tutto il mondo. Con due sezioni facili da consultare, la prima ordinata settimanalmente, la seconda per città.

ARTYEAR offre in anticipo notizie esaurienti sui maggiori avvenimenti in Europa, nelle Americhe e in Oriente, dando informazioni aggiornate anche sulle collezioni permanenti e sui nomi e i ruoli dei curatori.

ARTYEAR è redatta annualmente, nell'autunno dell'anno precedente a quello della pubblicazione. Le informazioni provengono direttamente dalle istituzioni elencate e rispecchiano il loro programma ufficiale.

ARTYEAR è disponibile nelle librerie d'arte e presso i musei in Europa, Nord America, Giappone, Australia e Nuova Zelanda, o direttamente dall'editore.

FIND OUT MORE ABOUT ART THAT IS CHANGING THE RULES AND CROSSING THE BOUNDARIES
FIND OUT ABOUT HIGH PERFORMANCE

High Performance is the only magazine published in the U.S. to descend into the underground and come back with the latest word about the most cutting edge artists of tomorrow. Quarterly articles feature the most up-to-date in visual art, film, video, dance, music, theater and performance. We keep looking over the shoulders of the most radical artists today, like Karen Finley, Laurie Anderson, Peter Sellars, The Wooster Group and Guillermo Gómez-Peña.

High Performance is a magazine that is not afraid of issues...

On Art and Politics:

"Joseph Beuys prophesied it in the '70s: Art will become politics and politics will become art. And so it happened in the second half of the '80s. Amidst the abrupt changes in the political cartography of the world, a mysterious convergence of performance art and politics began to occur."

—Guillermo Gómez-Peña, "From Art-mageddon to Gringo-stroika" Fall 1991

On The Black Aesthetic:

"To speak about the existence of a Blues Aesthetic is to speak of the conditions of blacks in America. To discuss the aesthetics of the blues is to engage in a passive and theoretical discourse about 'beauty' and 'refinement' regarding a genre that was not born out of either."

—Essex Hemphill, Winter 1990

On AIDS:

"The art world," continues [Tom] Kalin, "initially thought that work about AIDS could only come from a classical idiom and be about loss. But now activist work is challenging that presumption while also adopting the slickness of classical art and cultivating a fluency in advertising, finance, Madison Avenue and pop art tactics. It just so happens that this synthesis works artistically and is now being courted by the art world."

—Doug Sadownick, "ACT UP Makes a Spectacle of AIDS," Spring 1990

The magazine spotlights the most innovative performance and multimedia events happening all around the world and brings them to you in a fully illustrated, comprehensive journal. Each issue includes features, profiles, reviews, extensive photo documentation, interviews and critical analysis written for an audience who wants to keep informed of current trends in art.

Broaden your vision beyond visual art. Subscribe to High Performance and find out what's beyond gallery and museum walls.

RICHARD SERRA / DIRK REINARTZ

A F A N G A R

Afangar, Icelandic meaning: stations, stops on the road, to stop and look: forward and back, to take it all in

In 1989 I began a series of trips to Iceland which led to a sculpture project on Videy island, close to the harbor of Reykjavik. The sculpture on Videy consists of 18 hexagonal basalt stones, nine sets, all three and four meters high and approximately $\frac{3}{4}$ of a meter wide.

It so happened that I made more notebook drawings on this project than on most, from landscape observations and on-site notations at the quarry, to specific detailed drawings of all 18 stones as they were hoisted, placed, and set.
(Richard Serra)

39 full-page black and white photographs of the Videy project by Dirk Reinartz with 15 notebook drawings by Richard Serra. Text in English, German, and Icelandic. 78 pages, 1 fold-out, 30×26 cm (11.7×10"), duotone, hardcover, ISBN 3-907509-17-X, SFr. 48,- / A Parkett/Steidl book.
