CURRENT TRENDS IN FRENCH AND GERMAN SOCIOLOGY

The present paper by Jean-Paul Willaime (Ecole Pratique des Hautes Etudes, Paris) is the first in a series of three articles conceived as an overview of the sociology of religion in France, Germany and Great Britain. The two other papers should appear in the next issues of this journal.

Innovation

The European Journal of Social Sciences

EDITORS

Liana Giorgi & Ronald J. Pohoryles, The Interdisciplinary Centre for Comparative Research in the Social Sciences, Vienna, Austria

The main challenge faced by European social sciences at a time of rapid societal transformations is undoubtedly that of combining critical analytical thought with integrative pragmatic thinking, while also bridging gaps between disciplines and sub-disciplines on a cross-national basis. Related to this, there is a necessity to establish European fora for exchanging views and research experience on interrelated topics of interest to and significance for the social sciences. This objective is successfully met by the international research journal Innovation: The European Journal of Social Sciences, the official journal of the European Association for the Advancement of Social Sciences and The Interdisciplinary Centre for Comparative Research in the Social Sciences.

Innovation is published quarterly with regular thematic issues. Its contents include peer-reviewed research, theoretical papers and research notes. In addition to being one of the few general European social science journals with a wide readership in both Western and Eastern Europe, Innovation guarantees rapid publication of papers.
