CONCERNING THE BOY SCOUTS.

Sir,—Why this sentimental and pompous tosh about "a golden opportunity missed" in O.J.W.'s article in your last issue (Aug. 24th)? It might have been very pleasant for some of us with "many a lump in many a throat" to see the Swiss scouts at some specially arranged rally. But the Scouts were probably much more happy to be spared such a showing-off party and see something of London instead. Those who especially wanted to give the boys a treat have evidently done so, for their own satisfaction, we hope, and not, as suggested by O.J.W., to save the Colony's face. The thing to do for those who wished to entertain the scouts was obviously to write to that effect in the "Swiss Observer," inviting other people to join.

An old friend of the S.O.

ADOLPH HOEGGER. †

The death is announced of Mr. Adolph Hoegger, at his residence, Summerland, Wilmslow, a former chairman of the British Cotton and Wool Dyers' Association, Ltd. He was a well-known figure on the Royal Exchange and a member of the Reform Club since 1875. Mr. Hoegger (writes a correspondent) was born in 1849 at St. Gall, Switzerland, and came to this country at the age of 22. He obtained employment as a works chemist with the firm of Messrs Ermen and Roby, and remained with them until the year 1882, when he joined Mr. Kerr and commenced trading as dyers and mercerisers of cotton yarns, building up one of the finest businesses of its kind in England, under the title of Kerr and Hoegger, Ltd. At the inception of the British Cotton and Wool Dyers' Association, Ltd., in January, 1900, his firm was incorporated, and Mr. Hoegger became a managing director. His ability was soon recognised by his colleagues, and he was appointed chairman in December 1902. By his leadership and technical skill in the dyeing industry, he earned the respect of those around him, and was on many occasions thanked by the shareholders for the manner in which he had piloted the Association through its many difficulties and achieved success.
