AUTUNNO.

Di tra la vite, colorita a ruggine, ridono i polposi, lucenti grappoli: ogni acino un brillante occhio che lietamente ammicea e invita...

Filari, filari d'occhi invitanti!

La natura, in quest'epoca autunnale, si è addobbrata come una dama sfarzosa, briosa, amante però dei sobri colori. Non qui quei verdi, quei rossi, quegli azzurrini vivaci, portati tanto arditiamente da damigella primavera... no, ma colori ricchi di sfumature parche, che, nel loro assieme, riescono a formare uno splendido quadro...

Prima di morire la natura vuole civettere ancora e mette qua e là, sugli alberi, tra le foglie, nell'erba, pennellate di colori troppo belli... son dei gialli pacati che, ai raggi del sole, diventano rivoli d'oro; sono dei rossi densi che assumono l'aspetto di cupi rubini; son dei verdi bruni che sembrano leggere lame di rame, di bronzo...

Chi sa dare un nome a tutti questi colori? Quali parole possono tessere un'elegia alla natura autunnale? Si ammira, si rimane profondamente commossi... ma il labbro resta muto, tremante, forse, a volte.

E, di tra i filari, lieti canti popolari, dolci nenie, si alzano al cielo quali lodi all'Artefice Supremo che tanta ricchezza seppe infondere alla terra... e scorrone i grappoli nelle porporee fine... e gorgoglierà limpido il vino... E, in lontananza, lo schioppettio dei cacciatori rincoverti la fuggiasca lepre, il latrare dei cani, il cinguettio degli uccelli spaventati...

Per i sentieri, un soffice tappeto variopinto, formato dalle cadute foglie; a volte il piede calpesto qualche cosa di solido... è una bionda nocciola, è una castagna che fa capolino dal verde, pungente riccio.

E qui, nei villaggi ticinesi, quelle vecchie caratteristiche case a porticati, a due piani, dai balconi in legno annerito, in autunno si ornano di ricche mappe di granoturco, che appese lungo tutto il porticato, formano cortine dorate, dando una nota allegra alle affumicate mura. E dalle finestre, dai balconi, serpeggiano giù giù fiammanti geranee...

SWISS MERCANTILE SOCIETY.
EDUCATION DEPARTMENT.

In connection with the scholastic programme the following lectures were given by the students during last week:

Miss M. Huber, Bern: "What Art can give us." Miss M. Schaefer, Grenchen: "Punishment as a Means of Education." Mr. H. Paravicini, Wadenswil: "Farewell Speech." Miss M. Sattler, Zurich: "Dr. Barnado." Mr. M. Ruedin, Zurich: "The Importance of the Newspaper." Mr. F. Meyer, St. Gall: "Music." Miss E. Zehnder, Berne: "The Art of Writing Letters." Mr. H. Buser, Basel: "Some Topics of my Military Duty."

The debating classes dealt with the following subject:—

"Should one keep a Diary?" Proposer: Mr. O. Freitag. Opposer: Miss Simmen.

In connection with the College of the S.M.S. a most enjoyable day was spent on Saturday, October 18th, when a party of approximately 100 students, under the direction of Mr. R. S. Thompson, visited the well-known caves at Chislehurst in Kent. On arrival the party was conducted by the official guide through the outer and inner series of caves and during the expedition many interesting facts were given to us.

Refreshments were obtained when the majority of students made themselves thoroughly at home by arranging an impromptu dance on the lower floor. This exercise being over the party then proceeded for a walk during which the impressive Eugenes Mansion was viewed together with the memorial erected in memory of Napoleon.

After a delightful ramble through Pett's Wood the party dispersed. The weather experienced was more like summer than autumn.

law, has now seen the inside of a court of law, or even had time under lock and key, to rue an excess of temper against an employer or a black-leg, and is thereby branded for all time.

The ultimate result for both parties is not worth having, and it is again clearly proved that not even the best of industrial fights is worth the candle.

TAFERS.

For several winters past fifteen Huts and Chalets, largely used by skiers, have been plundered by thieves. From one particular chalet, on the road to the Ottenthalenbad and temporarily uninhabited, furniture and provisions to the amount of 2,000 Frs. has been cleared out. In farm premises cows have been milked and articles stolen. Tremendous exasperation is felt amongst skiers and population. The police have arrested three men in Plaffeien. The criminal court sentenced two of the thieves, aged 17 and 24 years, to six and twelve months imprisonment respectively; the youngest was placed on probation and a fourth one got two months for receiving. The police are after more of the culprits.

WALZENHAUSEN:

On Saturday last, an electrician's mate, Gustav Niederer, 28, lost his life through an accident in Lachen near Walzenhauser. Four electricians were putting in a new electric conduct wire by fastening the new wire to the old one and pulling it through the insulators. Carelessly, the parallel running 10,000 volt current was not switched off; the new wire got caught somewhere and the four workmen pulled with all their strength, which set the wire into a swinging motion and contacted with the high voltage current, all five men receiving a shock. Luckily however, a short circuit resulted, causing the four men to be thrown aside, but Niederer, who was at the winding coil, received the whole accumulated current and was electrocuted.
