CORRECTION

The Federal Department of Health has issued the following correction. In a report on the recent meeting of the International Women's League for Peace and Liberty at Geneva, it was stated that the manufacturing of the heroin drug is now chiefly done in Switzerland. On the contrary, since the Federal Law on Drugs is in force trary, since the Federal Law on Drugs is in force $(1926)$, the production of heroin has steadily diminished. From $3,500 \mathrm{~kg}$ in 1926 it was reduced to 952 kg in 1928 and 68 kg in 1929 . This is undonbtedy the result of the control which is exercised by the Federal Authorities, control which has been steadily intensitied. N.Z.Z.

the zones dispute.

Though this dispute is now sub judice the general council of Epper Savoy has deemed it expedient to issue a manifestation vehemently protesting against any change in the present temporary regime which has been created by the arbitrary action of the French authorities.

LOCAL.

zurich.

- A novel way of celebrating Labour Day was introduced by Rumpf & Co., manufacturers of perfumery in Zurich. On May 1st all the employees and hands were given a trip to Basel, all expenses paid by the firm. Charabancs were in readiness at Basel for a sight-seeing tour of the town and the Rhine port. After lunch the Managing Director of the firm acted as guide in visiting the Basel Fair. Needless to add (we hope), Rumpf $&$ Co., paid full wages for that day on top of it.

Martin Oswald, aged ${ }^{*} \underset{2}{2}$, from Wil (St. Gall) and living at Vetikon, was cleaning the pistol he possessed as sergeant-major. Unfortwoately, he He was killed by a bullet which lodged in his heart.

Fritz Berchtold, 44 years old, citizen of Busswil (Bern), threatened in a public house at Ester that he would shoot the local chief magistrate. It appears that Berchtold was earning a precarions living as hawker, and that his nine children were left alone in their home all day. This state of affairs became a nuisance to such an extent that the sanitary authorities obtained a summons against Berchtold. His threats were communicated to Sergeant Pfennigwert, chief of to war'n him. As he left the house, Berchold, evidently mistaking him for the magistrate, shot him down. The murderer then escaped on his he had been a member of the force for over 30 years and was generally respected as an efficient officer.

LUCERNE.

The receiver in bankruptcy has sold the Hertenstein estate, including the two hotels, to Falck & Co., bankers in Luzern, for 800,000 Frs. What use will be made in future of the estate is not yet settled.

URI.

The Cantonal poll, in replacement of the Landsgemeinde, resulted in the election as Landammann of the Liberal candidate, National Councillor.J. W. Lusser, and of the Conservative Federal State Councillor Isidor Meyer as Landesstatthalter.
N.Z.Z.

The Landsgemeinde des alten Landes Schwyz (Bezirk Schwyz) elected Stathalter J. L. Bürgler (Conservative) of Muottathal as Berzirksammann. The retiring Bezirksammann Kaspar Schindler (Liberal) of Goldau was elected Statthalter. Trasurer K. Holdener (Conservative) of Schwyz was confirmed in his office.

BASLE.

Willi Storrer, editor of the periodical " Individualität" and journalistic leader of the Anthroposophic movement in Switzerland, was killed in an aeroplane accident at the Gempenstollen. He had obtained his pilot's Gempenstonlen. He had obtained has few days previonsly and was carrying out a flight with two young friends as passengers. One of the passengers was also killed and the other one very seriously injured. It appears that Storrer flew across the Gempenstollen platean at too low an altitude, so that, when the plane fell into an air-pocket, he touched the trees. His plane, a $40 \mathrm{~h} . \mathrm{p}$. Klemm-Daimler, was destroyed

Wonders never cease! One day last week, about mid-day, a cyclist was pedalling along Margarethenstrasse towards Gundelingerstrasse, With the intention of turning left into the Dornacherstrasse. Dornacherstrasse. He heard a motor-cycle spluttering behind him, looked round, and thought: Time enough to turn before he comes. But-there was not time; moreover, the cyclist had not given the slightest indication that he was had not given the slightest indication that he was going to turn left. Anyway, both met. The bicycles front wheel was left roughly in the shape of a ski, and its owner complained of pains in his back. The motor cyclist had grazed the skin of his hands. And now comes the marvel: Both discussed the accident in a most friendly manner and agreed that each one was equally at fault. Motor police arrived quickly on the scene, and this produced another marvel. The motor-cyclist stated voluntarily, that he came along at the rate of 50 km . The policemen were dumbfounded by such truthfulness and looked so astonished, that the motor-cyclist said: "Oh well, it may have been only 40 !", ## afrgau.

National Councillor Dr. Eggspühler has died at Baden. His successor in the National Council will be Mühlebach, professor of agriculture, the next candidate on the Catholic-Conservative list.

The candidate of the Evangelische Volkspartie, who was elected a member of the Council of the town of St. Gall, has been unseated. It showed an alteration in the print rendering it different from the official form. The St Gall law distinctly declares any such alteration invalid The Central Election Office thereupon declared these papers null and void, and the seat now goes to the Liberal-Democrats.

geneva.

Some members of the Geneva Rambling Club Les Joyeux Alpins" set out on an excursion to the "Vuache." Half way to the summit they sat down to a picnic, and whilst enjoying their no doubt most deserverl meal, a viper 25 inches in length introduced herself into the "Rucksack" of Mr . H. Ziegler.

Unaware of the presence of their additional travelling companion the party broke up to gain the summit, where a well-merited rest was taken. The unconscious guardian of this "precious" load used his "Rucksack" as a cushion whilst enjoying an hour's "snooze," unaware of the great danger he was rumning.

Returning at night to Geneva, M. Ziegler handed the "Rucksack" to a friend of his, M. M. Regard from whom he had borrowed it, in which room the reptile spent the night peacefully. Whilst doing his morning toilette, M. Regard saw to his amazement and terror through a looking, Fortunately he was able to kill the beast before any harm was done. Moral: "Inspect your any harm was done. Moral 'luggage' before returning,"

The following dialogue between a Magistrate and a Hotel employee, who had indulged rather too freely than wisely in alcohol, and had threatened his comrades with a revolver, took place in a Geneva Court:

Magistr.: " You are drinking too much."
Magistr. : " You are drinking too much."
Empl. : ${ }^{\prime}$ When I am in the Ticino I drink a good bit, but when at Geneva three or four 'chopes ' are all.

Magistr.: "What did you carry a revolver for?",
Empl. : " I bought it to commit suicide."
Magistr.: "You could have saved the expense, as there is the Rhone."
Empl.: "Agreed, but
Empl.: "Agreed, but I do not like cold water."
Mag

Magistr.: "One day confinement! and take care that I do not see you here again, or I shall send you to a detention home for drunkards.

Empl.: "Thank you Sir, I am going to America, where 'all is dry.

NEUGHATEL.

The referendum, undertaken by the Liberal Party, against the newly introduced taxes which were voted by the Grand Council last February, has united over 7,000 signatures. As the minimum required by the legislature demands 3,000 adherents, this question will be submitted to the vote of the population.

LANDSGEMEINDE.

Anyone who wishes to get a glimpse of the real Siviss democracy must attend a Landsgemeinde as still held in a few small Cantons. Then he will realize, that the democratic constitution of switzerland is the natural consequence Swiss its and, and that it is firnty rooted in the Swiss population. The simple dignity, and the simple language, of the members of the Government, and the quick establishment of sympathetic contact between electors and elected! And, gam, the thassuming wa, in which the elector standling in the ring voice their opinions, if in opposition to the Government's proposals! The calm and the common-sense in which the matters before the meeting are settled, impress beyond words. The small Cantons of old Helvetia are perhaps the only parts of Europe, where there is no rawning gulf between those who command and those who obey, where there is still a feeling on both sides that confidence is given and is merited, and where everyone has understanding for the worries and needs of his neighbour.

ERNEST ANSERMET.

We hear from musical circles that our dis tinguished compatriot will be invited during the coming season to conduct rarious concerts in this country.

It will no doubt interest our readers to get a few biographical notes about this well-known con ductor. Grove's Dictionary gives the following account :

Musically he studied first with Dénéréaz at Lausamne and later counter point with Otto Barblan and composition with Ernst Bloch at eneva.

Having chosen the career of a conductor, he worked with Francesco de Lacerda of the Schola Cantorum and afterwards had the advice of Nikisch and Weingartner. He founded in 1918 the Orchestre de la Suisse romande. From 1915 onwards M. Ansermet was intermittently engaged with the Diagilev Ballet which he has accom panied to North and South America, Spain, Italy many of its most cimportant first performances of on His name is closely associated with the works of Stravinski of which he has wiven the works of Stravinski of which he has given noteworthy performances. In recent years he has conducted concerts of the Royal Philarmonic Society in London and also at Liverpool.'
