FEDERAL.

SAVOY FREE ZONES.

JUDGMENT IN FAVOUR OF SWITZERLAND.

The Permanent Court of International Justice, on June 7th, delivered judgment in favour of Switzerland in the case of the Free Zones of Upper Savoy and the district of Gex, which have been in dispute between France and Switzerland since 1919. Many people, among them the French and Swiss Ministers at The Hague, were present in the large hall of the Court.

The judgment was given by a majority of six votes against five, those in favour being Signor Amilotti, Dr. Loder, Dr. Oda, Dr. Huber, Mr. Kellogg, and M. Beichmann.

In its judgment the Court decides that the Free Zones — which, after being created in 1815 and 1816, had been abolished in 1923 by the single-handed action of France — are to be maintained in existence. Accordingly the Court rules that France must withdraw her Customs line, in conformity with the provisions of 1815-1816. The withdrawal has to be effected by January 1, 1934; the Court adds, however, that the withdrawal of the Customs line does not affect the right of the French Government to collect at the political frontier fiscal duties not possessing the character of Customs duties. Furthermore the Court declares that, as the Free Zones are maintained, some provision for the importation of goods, free of duty or at reduced rates, across the line of the Federal Customs must be contemplated: for the rest, it leaves the manner of regulating such imports to the Government concerned, confining itself to placing on record a declaration made on behalf of the Swiss Government to the effect that the Swiss Government would agree, should France so desire, to the terms of these exchanges of goods being settled by experts, failing an agreement between the parties.

Señor Altamira and Sir Cecil Hurst have submitted a dissenting opinion on certain points regarding the interpretation of the Special Agreement of October 30, 1924, in virtue of which the case was submitted to the Court; and M. Negulesco a dissenting opinion regarding the Court's jurisdiction. M. Yovanovitch confines himself to a statement of his dissent, and M. Eugène Dreyfus has appended to the judgment a dissenting opinion.

SWISS SATISFACTION.

Great satisfaction is felt in Switzerland at the decision of The Hague Court on the Savoy Free Zones. Now that the legal issue has been settled, negotiations are likely to be resumed for an understanding with France on the reciprocal trade facilities to be set up. If the two countries fail to reach an agreement, experts appointed by the Court will define the principles on which economic exchange should be based. The decision of The Hague Court is regarded in Geneva as more than a Swiss legal victory, but stress is laid on the fact that by its decision the Court has greatly enhanced the prestige of arbitration and international justice.

SWITZERLAND AND FINANCIAL HELP FOR AUSTRIA.

It is stated that Switzerland has refused to join the foreign powers in extending financial help to Austria, owing to the fact that the Swiss Government has to make heavy sacrifices in order to help the industries of its own country in their fight against the ever increasing export restrictions.

SWISS PARLIAMENTARY SESSION.

On the 6th inst. the two Chambers met in Session.

FRANCO-SWISS TARIFF WAR.

The Swiss and French Governments are about to conclude an agreement concerning the classes of goods which will be subject to Swiss import quotas.

In the meantime the tariff war is continuing. It is reported that the Swiss Government intends levying a Customs tax of 4 per cent, ad valorem on certain French goods, such as wines, and the yield on this tax will be distributed among the Swiss exporters who suffer most from the new French tariffs. This is a measure of retaliation against the special tax on the price of goods and profits which France is levying in spite of the existing trade treaties.

SWITZERLAND'S PETROLEUM IMPORT TRADE.

According to official statistics the total imports of petroleum products into Switzerland during 1931 amounted to 2,543,907 barrels, which compared with 2,227,844 barrels imported during the preceding 12 months. The imports of motor spirit last year amounted to 1,546,099 barrels, as compared with 1,350,544 barrels imported during the preceding 12 months. Fuel oil imports in 1931 were 649,283 barrels; kerosene, 189,751 barrels; and lubricating oils, 146,650 barrels. A total of 3,648,293 lbs. of paraffin wax were imported into Switzerland last year.

FOOTBALL.

The "printer" has somehow jumbled up the results of 29th May and they should have read:—

Grasshoppers3	Urania1
Lausanne Sports4	Concordia1

On the 5th of June the Finals proceeded one stage further:—

Zurich3	Urania2
Lausanne Sports1	Grasshoppers1

a very smart achievement of the First League champions in Lausanne. We are sorry to note that Hitrec, the famous Jugo-Slavian international centre-forward, broke his leg in this game, which loss will no doubt seriously handicap Grasshoppers in their remaining Final match with Zurich.

FIRST LEAGUE.

Wohlen1	Luzern1
--------	--------	--------	--------

We shall have to wait till next week when the last outstanding match, Winterthur v Luzern will give us the third victim for relegation. Unless they draw and then we would have to wait longer still!
