For some time he was a member of the cantonal government, and from 1896 until to his election to the Supreme Court, he represented the canton Aargau in Parliament. (National Council). BASLE-COUNTY.

M. Albert Handschin-Freivogel, Founder and for many years head of the reputed firm Handschin & Ronus, has died at the age of 83 at Liestal. He was born on the 15th of December, 1849, in Gelterkinden, and after having received his schooling, entered a small firm of Produce Merchants as an apprentice. A short stay in the French part of Switzerland followed. The next few years he was in turn a postal employee, bank cashier and head of the "Ersparniskasse Gelterkinden" a post which he held for 10 years. In 1897 he founded together with M. Carl Ronus from Basle, the firm Handschin & Ronus. In 1915 he retired, after having been at the head of this establishment for 20 years, but when 5 years later the business was turned into a limited Co., he was elected Chairman of the Board. M. Handschin held numerous appointments both in the Administration of the community of Gelterkinden, as well as in other industrial concerns, and his advice was often sought and never refused.

VAUD.

The Swiss Liberal Party held their Annual Meeting at Lausanne under the Presidency of M. Schupbach, National Councillor. Amongst the Participants were M. Schulthess, President of the Swiss Confederation, Federal Councillors Pilet and Meyer. M. Schulthess in his address said, that the position in Switzerland was more serious now than at any time during the war. Switzerland has, he mentioned, suffered heavy losses, owing to tariff barriers, and more losses are still to be expected. In these distressing times, everybody expects help from the government which however is not in a position to remedy all evils; we can, he exclaimed, only try to conciliate and to advise, but we are unable to direct the way or to counter the economic laws. He concluded his oration with an appeal to the Swiss people to work hand in hand to conquer the many obstacles which are barring the way to prosperity.

FIRST LEAGUE.

Winterthur2	Old Boys2
Seebach0	Brühl1
Bellinzona6	Oerlikon0
St. Gallen3	Luzern2
Olten1	Etoile Ch.deF.1
Bern2	Solothurn1
Bözingen2	Cantonal2
Racing1	Grenchen2

In the National League the results are as expected, the only surprise being the high scores of Basel and Servette respectively, against teams who on balance had only given away two goals per match. Young Boys had to fight hard against lowly Nordstern and Grasshoppers beat the bottom club Carouge "only" 3:0.

In the First League Group West, Grenchen and Bern with 20 points each from 11 games have outdistanced the other seven. Their respective goal scores are 42:10 and 39:11. Who will go up? At the tail end there are Olten last, 5 points and Montreux, Bözingen and Solothurn all with 6 points. Take your choice for the two relegation candidates.

In Group East, Oerlikon is lost and must be relegated even should they win all their remaining matches. Old Boys, Bellinzona or Luzern will provide the second victim. At the top of the table we have a most interesting situation :

	P. W.	D. L.	F. A.	Goals	Pts.
1. Locarno	12	8	2	34	18
2. Brühl	12	7	3	22	14
3. St. Gallen	13	6	4	30	28
4. Seebach	13	5	4	30	25

I shall refrain from prophesying!

PARLONS DE TOUT.

Une question m'est posée par une femme, à laquelle il me faut bien essayer de répondre, car le nombre est immense des femmes qui estiment que leur rôle de ménagère est sans grandeur. La voici :

"Pourquoi donner à un mari toute une jeunesse, toute une honnêteté, pour être considérée par lui comme un article de ménage?"

Il me semble qu'ici c'est à la femme elle-même qu'il appartient de s'interroger d'abord, et peut-être de faire ensuite son mea culpa. La plupart des femmes, en effet, qui sont attentives à bien tenir leur ménage oublient de demeurer désirables. De même que les hommes inclinent à penser qu'en gagnant le pain quotidien du ménage, ils font tout leur devoir, et que leur femme ne saurait leur demander rien de plus, les ménagères diligentes jugent qu'elles ont rempli le leur, intégralement, en faisant en sorte que rien ne cloche dans leur intérieur. Égale erreur. Le mariage n'est pas une association purement utilitaire: il y faut une atmosphère de tendresse. Une ménagère qui n'est qu'excellente ménagère n'inspire que de l'estime; il est bien préférable que la femme ne soit pas animée d'un zèle excessif dans la tenue du ménage et qu'elle demeure désirable par des côtés frivoles si vous voulez, mais qui sont ceux par lesquels elle conserve l'amour de son mari.

Je m'assure qu'un homme est plus sensible aux soins que donne sa femme à sa chevelure par exemple qu'à ceux qu'elle prodigue à sa batterie de cuisine. Et je tiens pour certain qu'un peu de coquetterie dans la toilette d'une femme, — de cette coquetterie qui ne coûte rien que du goût —, est la condition sine qua non de la continuité d'attention que prête un mari à sa femme, même après l'accoutumance de plusieurs années de mariage. Je sais des ménagères très suffisantes qui restent aussi des femmes; j'en sais d'autres, — plus nombreuses —, qui cessent de l'être. Cela n'est pas la faute de leur mari.

Il faut bien le dire, ce qui fait le plus défaut au caractère féminin, c'est la mesure: En général la femme est excessive dans ses actes comme dans ses sentiments. Elle sera toute à son intérieur, ou elle sera toute "en dehors." Égal excès. L'homme n'aime pas le désordre; il n'est pas férus d'un ordre excessif. Il ne hait pas quelques échappées amusantes; il aime de se retrouver à l'ordinaire chez lui. Si toutes les femmes comprenaient cela, tous les ménages seraient autant de petits paradis.
