FEDERAL.

FEDERAL COUNCILLOR PHILIPP ETTER.

The two Chambers of the Swiss Parliament have elected on Wednesday, March 28th, M. Philipp Etter, States Councillor, as a Federal Councillor, in succession to M. Musy, who has recently resigned.

Federal Councillor Etter was born on the 21st of December, 1891, at Menzingen (Ct. Zug). He received his first education at the "Gymnasium" in Zug and at the "Stiftsschule" in Einsiedeln; afterwards he studied law at the University in Zugiah.

Zurich.

In 1917 he was appointed examination judge at Zug, he entered the "Kantonsrat" a year later, and in 1922 he became a member of the cantonal government, over which he presided in 1927/28. Two years later he was sent to Parliament to represent the canton of Zug in the States Council (Ständerat), where he soon made a great reputation for himself. He was also editor of the "Zuger Nachrichten," and in the army he reached the rank of a major (infantry). Federal Councillor Etter is married and the father of ten children, five boys and five girls.

HELPING MUSICIANS OVER THE DEPRESSION.

HELPING MUSICIANS OVER THE DEPRESSION.

The plight of talented musicians in Switzerland arising from the depression has been met by the Swiss Federal Council, which has allocated a sum of 40,000 francs (at the present rate of exchange £2,500), for their relief as a special unemployment credit placed at the disposal of the Ministry of the Interior.

The Federal Council's order provides that only the following are entitled to relief from the special fund: conductors of orchestras or choirs.

only the following are entitled to relief from the special fund: conductors of orchestras or choirs, singers, instrumental musicians, and teachers of music who can point to a thorough study of music and have already distinguished themselves in their profession in Switzerland; and young and particularly talented musicians whom lack of funds prevents from continuing their studies.

The amount and the nature of the relief varies with needs in each particular case. It may consist in the purchase of compositions of talent, subsidies for the publication of such compositions, the organisation of concerts or the purchase of the organisation of concerts or the purchase of satisfactory instruments for practising. In special cases subsidies without an equivalent service may satisfactory instruments for practising. In special cases subsidies without an equivalent service may also be given.

Musicians whose resources are not inferior to the minimum on which they require to live are requested not to apply for relief, but to stand back in favour of their less fortunate colleagues.

The difficulties of administering this novel form of professional relief have been overcome by the Government, which has placed the control of the fund in the hands of a special commission. Although technically the distribution of the relief remains in the hands of the Department of the Interior, the commission is composed of the President of the Swiss Musicians' Association of Zurich, the President of the Swiss Music Teachers' Association of Neuchâtel, and three members of the committeee of each of these organisations.

CAISSE FEDERALE DE PRETS.

Owing to the death of Minister Rüfenacht and National Councillor Guntli and the resignaand National Councillor Guith and the resigna-tion of Director Georg in Geneva, the following were elected members of the board of the "Caisse Fédérale de Prêts": Dr. L. Merz, member of the Bernese Government; R. Suter, Aarau, presi-dent of the Association of Local Banks, and Max de Cérenville, manager of the Insurance Company "La Suisse."

NEW FRANCO-SWISS TREATY.

A new commercial treaty was signed in Berne between France and Switzerland to replace the old treaty of 6th July, 1929, which had expired.

SWISS EXPEDITION TO THE HIMALAYAS.

A party of Swiss scientists, alpinists, and photographers is to leave Switzerland shortly for a six months' expedition to the mountains of ashmir. The object of the trip will be to make thorough survey of little known regions of the a thorough Himalayas.

The expedition has been organised by M. and Mme. Dyrenfurth, of Zurich, who were responsible for the expedition which successfully scaled the 24,500 feet Jongsong peak in 1930. It is hoped to cover the expenses of the journey by a film of

OXFORD CITY'S SWISS TOUR FIASCO.

It is rather unfortunate that this tour should It is rather unfortunate that this tour should ever have taken place, with such a sorry ending. One could not help having some misgivings, when F.C. Kreuzlingen arranged for an Easter visit by Oxford City, further matches to be played against F.C. St. Gallen and F.C. Young Fellows. Glowing accounts of that Isthmian club's renown appeared in the Swiss Press. Where they got the information, goodness only knows. As it happens, their deeds in the League are far from great, and so it came about that on Good Friday Kreuzlingen, playing cat and mouse with the Oxford City Amateurs, licked them with the greatest ease by 7 goals to 2. A plea from Kreuzlingen not to publish any detailed reports on the game fol-Only Amateurs, nexed them with the greatest ease by 7 goals to 2. A plea from Kreuzlingen not to publish any detailed reports on the game followed, and the tour came to a sudden end by cancellation of the other two fixtures, to save the public from further disappointment.

Very unfortunate from every point of view, and particularly so on account of the blow dealt thereby to the reputation of British amateur football.

SWITZERLAND'S IMMUNITY.

By A. H. SMITH, Swiss Bank Corporation.

Switzerland's comparative immunity from the more violent manifestations of the general economic crisis which broke over Europe in 1929 may be regarded as a very significant tribute to the intrinsic soundness of conditions in the Confederation. It is, no doubt, true that both the slowness with which the crisis affected Swiss economic life and the failure of the depression to manifest itself in any violent or spectacular manner when it ultimately came are due to the soundness of underlying conditions and to the careful preparations which have been made by authorities over a long period with a view to meeting such a situation.

Foremost among such measures has figured the policy of the Swiss National Bank in maintaining its gold reserves at a level which is not rivalled by any other Central Bank. The Swiss Government has on numerous occasions emphasised its belief in the importance of remaining on the gold standard, and within the last few weeks this intention has been further confirmed at the annual general meeeting of the Swiss National Bank.

BALANCE OF PAYMENTS.

BALANCE OF PAYMENTS.

Thanks to the researches of the Swiss Bank Corporation, published in a recent issue of its bulletin, it is now, after a considerable lapse of years, possible to obtain some idea of the position of the balance of payments in Switzerland. The trade figures, including those items not actually shown in the official trade returns, are as follows:

a Provision figures. b Included in trade figures. It is clear from these figures that the improvement in the trade situtation has only been apparent owing to the fact that movements of gold have had so important an influence.

Every effort is being made to restore the equilibrium of the balance of payments, and by virtue of a decree passed last October the Federal Council is given special powers of procedure in taking such steps as may safeguard the interests of the State. A scheme of export credit guarantees has been introduced, under which the Federal Council has at its disposal a maximum sum of 10 million francs available for this purpose.

The policy of concluding clearing agreements with foreign countries has been carried a stage further, and treaties already existing in 1932 with Austria, Hungary, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria have now been supplemented by similar arrangements with Rumania and Greece, while there in a special agreement with Germany. The operations are conducted through the medium of the Swiss National Bank.
