AN ANNIVERSARY.

AN ANNIVERSARY. On January 31st it was the 10th anniversary of the death of General Wille, a soldier and citizen who well deserves that his services should not be forgotten. His life's work was dedicated to the Swiss Army, all his energy was concentrated on one afim, to make our Army an efficient and respected force, and during the world war he was the trusted and untiring leader of our Army. It is therefore not out of place, to remember on this anniversary, once again, the great services he has rendered to our country. No one can claim a bigger share in the im-provement and furtherance of our fighting force, he was its great educator and inspirator. With a steady hand and with an iron determination he, long before the great war broke out, delivered our force, from the fetters of old institutions and perceptions. He educated the soldier to disci-pline, and the officier to an independant and responsible leader. He demanded from everyone the maximum of his strength, and by his example sense of dury, which stood in good stead during succeeded in creating throughout the army a sense of duty, which stood in good stead during the long and tedious Frontier occupation.

the long and tedious Frontier occupation. The military organisation of 1907 was due solely to his merit, for many years he fought with a tenacious energy for this re-organisation, and in spite of considerable opposition, he stuck to his programme, which seven years later proved to be an undeniable success. It is hoped that the example which our famous countryman has given us, during some of the darkest hours through which Switzerland has passed, might not be forgotten, and that our fighting forces are still imbued by the same spirit which has saved our country from a terrible disaster. disaster.

INCREASED MILITARY EXPENDITURE.

INCREASED MILITARY EXPENDITURE. The new President of the Confederation, Federal Councillor Rudolf Minger, came into office at the New Year, and as he is the chief of the Military Department, some foreign news-papers insisted on the "particular significance" of that choice. It is true that during the present year military problems are to be in the fore-ground. The Government and Parliament last year decided to spend about 100 million frances on the increase and improvement of the armaments of the Army and Air Corps, and to devote another ix millions to the erection of fortifications along the Rhine : and that programme is to be completed in 1935. It was also decided to prolong the period of instruction of recruits. All these are purely defensive measures, however, which were made necessary as Switzerland previously placed her hopes in the Disarmament Conference. ALPINE ACCIDENTS IN 1936.

ALPINE ACCIDENTS IN 1934.

Last year 146 persons were killed in 101 accidents in the Swiss, French, Italian and Austrian Alps. This is the highest number re-corded during the past 13 years. The second highest was recorded in 1931 (128 deaths); in 1933 the total was 112.

Of last year's victims 125 were men and 21 women. Five of the men were guides. In nine cases only were the parties accompanied by guides, and 18 victims were climbing alone. Thirty persons were killed in ski-ing accidents, as against 17 in the previous year. Skiing acci-dents have largely increased in recent years not only because of the development of skiing but also because of the growing habit of making ski excur-sions in the higher regions and on the glaciers. Forty-four of the accidents last year were due to falls on rocks, 14 to avalanches, and 11 to storms and exhaustion. Only one person died from a fall in a crevasse, thanks to the fact that last summer glaciers were abundantly covered from a fall in a crevasse, thanks to the fact that last summer glaciers were abundantly covered with snow and therefore very safe. The terrible thunderstorm of September 9th alone caused the death of 21 climbers, nine of whom died from ex-haustion. It should be added that 53 accidents out of 101 were either due to imprudence and lack of experience, or to unsatisfactory equip-ment ment.

SWISS CATHOLICS AND THE MEXICAN VICTIMS.

Swiss CATHOLICS AND THE MEXICAN VICTIMS. On the occasion of its annual meeting in the great halt of the Cercle de l'Esperance, under the chairmanship of Mgr. Besson, Bishop of Lau-sanne, Geneva and Fribourg, the Geneva Catholic Federation, representing 77,000 Catholics of the Canton expressed its lively brotherly sympathy with the Catholics of Mexico, deprived of their indefeasible right to liberty of conscience, and victims of odious persecution; condemned with indignation the iniquitous measures taken and the barbarous means employed by a sectarian govern-ment to uproot the faith of a country with long Catholic tradition; and prayed that the persecu-tion might speedily cease, so that Mexico might enjoy anew the divine fruit of peace and charity.

AARGAU.

The circumstances which led to the bank-ruptcy of Messrs. Frikart, of Zofingen, the Swiss iron-traders, have caused considerable surprise in Swiss financial and commercial circles. Losses amounting to several million francs are involved.

The Chairman of the company accuses a former director of having embezzled Frs.1,200,000 (about £80,000 at current rates). The director in question is already under arrest.

Assets amount to Frs.1,660,000 (£110,000.), and liabilities are valued at Frs.3,720,000 (£248,000). There is thus a deficit of Frs.2,060,000 (£137,000), which does not include the share capital of Frs.1,000,000 (£66,000). In all, there are exactly 1,001 creditors.

The Cantonal public prosecutor is making a judicial inquiry into this affair. Should it prove worth while, the main creditors will try to carry on the company's business.
