SWISS ACCORDION CLUB'S CONCERT AND DANCE.

As reported in the previous issue, the first concert and dance of the Accordion Club took place at the Schweizerbund on Friday last. It resulted to the greatest satisfaction of the Club members who were amazed, and not unduly proud for the enthusiastic reception which a tightly packed in audience gave number after number. The comparatively small hall of the Schweizerbund held somehow well over two hundred people; anyway, no one murmured, in fact, they all had the time of their lives. It is true that the Handoergely holds every Swiss under a magic spell.

Mr. Hausermann, the President of the Club, gave a short address introducing the Club, and bidding everyone welcome.

The earnest looking accordionists, grimly determined to press the right button at the right time, waited for the leader's signal, which when given was to cause a flow of that typical jovial Swiss music portraying so well, the majesty of our mountains, the peacefulness of our valleys and green pastures, and the happy freedom of its inhabitants.

It would not have been a complete Swiss musical evening without yodelling. Mrs. A. Rossier and Mrs. B. Aebersold with Mrs. Scherzer at the piano once more provided that thrilling entertainment to the delight of the audience. — Young Niggli, eight year old Solothurner, wished to distinguish himself, so gave a solo on his accordion, winning for himself, the heartiest clap of the evening. — Miss Niederhaeuser, the yodlerin with the golden voice, known to the whole colony for this, kindly obliged with a couple of surprise numbers.

Opening the dance and, providing a delightful variation Mrs. Scherzer on the piano gave a few old English songs after which the two dance-music accordionists settled down to their task, but had to be interrupted when Mr. Schaeferl, an absolute master of the Handoergely was discovered in the hall. Mr. Schaeferl stepped smilingly on the platform and gave an amazing demonstration with his small instrument. — The raffle caused much fun, when elderly ladies walked across the hall to collect their prize consisting of a cigarette lighter, and men to receive ladies handbags and manicure sets. — Dance followed till 2 a.m.

When God Save The King was played nearly every eye swang round looking at the clock in surprise. We can but thank the Accordion Club for such an enjoyable evening and trust this will mark the first of a long series of similar evenings.

SWISS FOOD STALL AT INTERNATIONAL CHRISTMAS SALE.

A Christmas Sale will be held on Friday, December 10th, from 2 to 6 at the Overseas League, St. James's, S.W.1, by the Associated Country Women of the World. This is the central organisation of 87 country women's societies in 57 Countries, States and Provinces. The Hon. President is Isabella Marchioness of Aberdeen and Temair, and the President is Mrs. Alfred Watt, M.A., M.B.E.

At the Sale there will be several stalls with Christmas gifts, cakes, sweets, flowers, toys, kitchen ware and china. There will also be an International Food Stall where the helpers will appear in their national costumes. Through the generous help of various Swiss restaurants, shops and factories in England, it has been made possible to furnish a Swiss Section on this particular stall.

Apart from the stalls there will be various entertainments. I sincerely hope that many of my compatriots will come to the Sale which will be opened by Madame Kassidolats, wife of the Yugoslav Minister.

The Association are doing a great deal of good for the country women all over the world, and apart from helping a good cause you will be able to secure some attractive Xmas presents, as well as some delicious Swiss specialities produced by Swiss firms established in this Country, and by Swiss Restaurants and Confectioneries in London.

MARIANN.

(It might interest our readers to know that Mrs. Mariann Meier-Gysin is the Swiss representative on the Executive Committee of the A.C.W.W. and she will be in charge of the Swiss Food Section at the above Sale.)
