Dancing then continued to a lovely dance band. I must congratulate Miss Niggli on her dance band. I know she has been working hard rehearsing, but she found that it was worth while and she looked radiantly happy with her success. I hope that the Accordionists will again engage that particular dance band which was definitely a great success. —

And now I am sure we are all looking forward to hear the Swiss Accordion Club again "in play" on June 16th at the Fête Suisse, at Central Hall, Westminster. Till then, dear friends, the best of luck, and thank you for a most enjoyable evening. —

FILM NEWS.

THE CHALLENGE, the new Matterhorn film is ready for exhibition and will be shown to the public from May 9th at the Pavilion in Piccadilly Circus.

It is a wonderful film, which will achieve general admiration and should be of special interest to the Swiss.

Those who had the opportunity to see former screen plays dealing with the same subject will be favourably surprised from beginning to end. It is eighty minutes of genuine entertainment without one dull moment. Scenery and photography are of the best; I don't think, I have ever seen anything to approach it in any alpine film.

The acting has to be described in superlatives too. As far as it concerns Louis Trenker, the star of many mountaineering plays, one knows that in the part of Carrel he should be entirely in his element. The newcomers in this type of film, notably Robert Douglas as Whymper, Frank Birch as Rev. Hudson, Geoffrey Wardwell as Lord Francis Douglas and Moran Caplat as Hadow, actors we never saw before in climbing scenes of this kind, give a very remarkable performance. "The climbing parson" Rev Hudson, who has in reality at least Whymper's equal, is remarkably characterised by Birch.

The romantic side of this film is also different from the usual "sloppy" stuff so often seen in pictures. It is treated in such a way as to improve the general interest. Important details like the order of Whymper's party on the rope when the accident occurs; how Hadow slips and pushes Croz over; how the rope breaks between Lord Francis Douglas and Taugwalder — are carried out with great accuracy. Other incidents like Carrel's finding of Whymper when the latter had injured himself on one of his first attempts on the Matterhorn — where, in reality, Whymper had to drag himself to Zermatt without help; or giving to the bachelor guide Croz, from Chamonix, a wife of Swiss nationality; the accusation of Whymper for having cut and thrown away the rope — a fact quite impossible as the guide Taugwalder stood between Whymper and the broken rope — and the friendship between Carrel and Whymper are fictitious without being objectionable. It may even be that just these little liberties, which surprise those who know the facts, give this climbing film a more general interest.

The climax of the film is — at least from an alpinist's point of view — when the climbers get to the top of the Matterhorn and exclaim: "We are the first human beings who put their feet on the top of this mountain since the beginning of the world" — and, on Hudson's suggestion, take off their hats and thank God for guiding them safely to the top. How little do they realise that within an hour four of them would perish in a terrible way, falling down to the Matterhorn glacier four thousand feet below. — Never has an Alpine drama been filmed in such a realistic and terrific way!

Z' BAERN U IM BUNDESHUS.

Von C. A. Loosli, dem urchigen, schalkhaften Bümplizer Schriftsteller, ist jüngst ein Band, "Erlebtes und Erlauschtes" erschienen (Verlag Löpfe-Benz, Rorschach), der eine Fülle von köstlichen Anekdoten enthält. Die folgende Kostprobe mag es bezeugen (wobei wir die Geschichtelein zum Teil etwas verkürzen):

"Du mir au"

Ein Regierungsrat hatte einem Freund ein Darlehen gemacht und musste ihn später — aus eigener Geldverlegenheit — darum ersuchen, die Summe wenn möglich ganz oder zum Teil zurück zu zahlen. Er schrieb dazu ein freundliches Brieflein und fügte als Nachschrift die Worte bei: "Du mir au."

Der Freund zahlte sofort das Geld zurück, und als sie sich wieder persönlich trafen, wollte er noch wissen, was denn die Nachschrift eigentlich bedeuten sollte?

Worauf der Regierungsrat erwiderte: "Hm, i ha dänkt, we du de my Brief gläse heigisch, so sägisch de: — dä cha mir i d'Schueh blase, un uf das ha-n-i grad zum vorus wöue-n-antworte!"

Subventionen.

Der langjährige Regierungsrat und Erziehungsdirektor Gobat war einmal stark darüber erzürnt, dass ein verlangter Kredit für die Primarschule vom Grossen Rat abgewiesen, dagegen ein solcher für die Rindviehzucht bewilligt wurde, und er schaffte seinem Unmut wie folgt Luft:

"Wenn man im Kanton Bern staatlich gefördert werden will, muss man schon als Kalb, nicht aber als Menschenkind und späterer Primarschüler zur Welt kommen. Würde ich an die Seelenwanderung glauben, so zöge ich bei uns zu Lande das erstere vor."

Worauf sein Kollege Ritschard ihm gelassen neckisch bemerkt haben soll: "Ja schon, aber weisst du, Gobat, man kann aber nicht zweimal dasselbe sein!"

Redebütten.

Ein Basellandschaftlicher Nationalrat meinte eines Tages: "So steht es in der Botschaft des Bundesrates; also muss es wahr sein .... Ich glaube es aber dennoch nicht ..."

Ein anderes Mal: "Ja, meine Herren, die Veredelung des Rindviehes geht nicht nur uns Landwirte, sondern jeden von Ihnen ganz im besondern an."
