A COMPREHENSIVE ORGANIZATION OF THE SWISS ABROAD.

The London Group of the Nouvelle Société Helvétique, encouraged by the success achieved at last year's Journée des Suisses à l'Etranger, started very early this year to prepare for the forthcoming Journée at Interlaken (25th—28th June). The President's report on these preliminary activities delivered to the Open Meeting, of 18th May, revealed that the Council had devoted much of the time of its meetings to this purpose and that, through the initiative of the N.S.H., a Journée des Suisses en Angleterre had been arranged. This first gathering of its kind was held at Swiss House on 17th April under the Chairmanship of Dr. H. W. Egli. It was attended not only by the representatives of the Swiss societies of London, but also by delegates from Manchester, Liverpool, Birmingham and Bradford. There agreement was reached on the general policy to be followed at Interlaken and on the items to be proposed for the Agenda.

It was now left to the Open Meeting to discuss these proposals. They were not all new ones. On the contrary, it was considered important that the requests and suggestions submitted to the Swiss Authorities at the 1947 Journée should be followed up. These are:—

- (a) Right to take part in votes and elections to be granted to Swiss living abroad during a stay in Switzerland;
- (b) New legislation about dual nationality;
- (c) Modernization of the system of assessment for the Military Tax.

One new proposal, the formation of a comprehensive organization of the Swiss abroad, underwent a thorough and lively discussion. The Meeting strongly supported the suggestion that this item should be included in the Agenda of the Journée at Interlaken.

The Council of the N.S.H., after consultation with the representatives of the Swiss societies of London and of the Provinces, had agreed on a resolution on this proposal being submitted to the Journée for acceptance, and the Meeting fully concurred. It reads as follows:

“The Journée des Suisses à l'Etranger 1948 — in order to strengthen the influence and power of the Swiss abroad for their own sake as well as that of the home-country —

- (1) welcomes and supports the proposal of the Swiss Colony in Great Britain for the formation of a comprehensive Organization of the Swiss Abroad;
- (2) recommends to the Colonies in every country most urgently to form permanent Councils in each Colony as a first step towards the realisation of point (1), the Colonial Councils to be formed either by special elections or by permitting the presidents, secretaries, etc., of each society and institution to function as delegates, the Councils meeting at least twice a year;
- (3) recommends colonies with special affinities by reason of language, geography, etc., to form Group Councils, composed of delegates from the Colony Councils and meeting at least once a year;
- (4) recommends to form a Grand Council of the Swiss Abroad, composed of delegates of the Group Councils, meeting at least once a year in conjunction with the Journée des Suisses à l'Etranger;
- (5) urges the establishment and maintenance of the most intimate contacts between the Organization of the Swiss Abroad and Secrétariat des Suisses à l'Etranger, which should become and act as the Secrétariat of the Organization of the Swiss Abroad and be financed by it as far as possible;

- (6) authorizes the following delegates ..... to negotiate with the S.E.E. concerning the new basis of co-operation between the Organization and the S.E.E., the detailed agreement to be submitted to the Grand Council," at the next meeting for approval.

The Swiss Colony on Great Britain will be represented at Interlaken by fifteen delegates, to whom we wish every success in moving the resolution.

There are many good reasons for the desirability of such an Organisation. It is an old complaint of the Swiss Abroad that they do not have enough influence in the home-country to ensure that sufficient consideration is given to their wishes, needs and complaints, and to their suggestions and advice. The military tax is only the most striking of many examples. For how many decades have we complained that the military tax, in its present form, is antiquated and irritating, and suggested that it should be speedily revised, if not eliminated, in the mutual interest of the home-country and the Swiss abroad. To this day nothing positive has been done in this matter.

This is, however, largely the fault of the Swiss abroad themselves, as they have never taken the necessary steps to speak with one voice and to assert their views effectively. The formation of an Organisation of the Swiss abroad is obviously the only way to remedy this situation, an Organisation formed by the Swiss

With Maggi's Aspic Jelly valuable additions may be made to war-time menus. From meat, fish and vegetable "left-overs" attractive supplementary dishes can be contrived.

INVALID ASPIC

Maggi's Aspic Jelly in a small mould daintily served with two or three small strips of toast will be a welcome change from "beef tea."

MEAT ASPIC

Cooked fresh sausage meat or meat left over from the joints may be used minced. Drop the meat into the jelly before setting and serve with a little watercress or cress.

FISH ASPIC

Cod or Salmon remaining from the boiled fish can be used, also prawns or shrimps. Fill the mould full and when nearly set put in the flakes of fish and fill up.

ASPIC SANDWICHES

Spread the slices of bread with margarine and then with a thin layer of jelly. Add grated cheese, watercress, mustard and cress, meat or fish paste.

JELLIED BEEF SOUP

A rich jellied beef soup may be made instantly with the addition of boiling water.

abroad and thereby capable of speaking authoritatively on their behalf.

But not only for the better care of our own interests should this Organisation be formed, but also as a means of enabling the Swiss abroad to be of the maximum usefulness to the home-country, by becoming a living link between the Swiss at home and abroad, helping to cultivate patriotic feelings, lending to the home-country its assistance and advice based on the intimate knowledge of the foreign countries, which so many Swiss politicians, parliamentarians and even business people are lacking.

The Swiss abroad feel a stronger need than ever for the spiritual backing of the far-off homeland and for closer contacts. The times are desperately serious. Switzerland should no longer leave the Swiss abroad to themselves nor neglect their value to Switzerland. They are the best friends of Switzerland — always. They need sympathetic understanding and handling and support as regards the cultivation of the love of the home-country amongst those born abroad. Who knows whether Switzerland will not one day be glad of every good friend in the world? Many Swiss abroad have intimately experienced the first and the second world war, from both of which the home-country was happily spared. The Swiss abroad could therefore make up for this certain lack in the treasure of experience of those at home, if not through representatives in Parliament then by means of the Organisation of the Swiss abroad. We should like to crown the noble work for the Swiss abroad begun by the Nouvelle Société Helvétique at home by increasing the interest and the influence of the Swiss abroad themselves. H.M.
