quick coffee

What could be quicker than simply pouring near-boiling water on to a spoonful of Nescafé in the cup? No grounds, no bother, no coffee-pot to wash — and you have . . .

grand coffee

Yes — Sniff that roaster-fresh fragrance — taste that full-bodied flavour — you'll agree Nescafé makes nicer coffee as well as quicker coffee every time, for Nescafé never varies — the goodness sealed in by the special Nestlé process. Ask your grocer for a tin of Nescafé.

Increased shipments of Canadian cereals, flour, aluminium, copper, upper leather, rubber tyres, sewing machines, drugs and chemicals to Switzerland last year boosted Canada's exports to that country by 43,000,000 francs over the 1947 total. A considerable number of new products was added to the list of Canadian exports to Switzerland, among which linseed oils and synthetic resins are prominent. Swiss sales to Canada decreased by 20,000,000 francs in the same period.

Over 160,000 child victims of the war, including 1,716 from Britain, have been cared for by Swiss foster families since 1940.

The Swiss Army would destroy all roads, railways and factories if the country were invaded, before retreating into the inner defence lines in the Alps, said Dr. Kobelt, Swiss Defence Minister.

The Berne Government of Switzerland, where women have neither franchise nor the right to hold public office, is to form a voluntary Swiss A.T.S., whose duties will include A.A. service.

Switzerland imported nearly ten times as many British cars in 1948 as in 1938.

A new Swiss gliding record for height above starting-point in a two-seat sailplane is claimed by Hans Wietlisbach. At Berne, on April 1st, in a Kranich, he reached a height of 10,830ft. The previous record, of 9,807ft., was held by Alwin Kuhn and Max Ritter.

The Centre for Continued Studies, Birmingham University, has arranged an expedition to Switzerland for June 11th-25th, first to the Vaud and then to the Valais, for the collection of alpine flowers.

According to the latest return of the Swiss National Bank for the week to April 7th, the gold influx has virtually come to a standstill, the gold reserve having risen by only Frs.0.6m. to Frs.5.912m., against a total increase of Frs.58m. during the previous fortnight. Foreign exchange holdings advanced by Frs.5.6m. to Frs.322m. during the first week of April.

The first two of the 75 de Havilland Vampire jet fighters ordered by the Swiss Air Force two years ago have been delivered. They flew from an undisclosed British airport to Emmen, near Lucerne, in just under an hour. Their average speed is estimated at over 500 m.p.h.

The construction of a tunnel over eight miles long beneath Mont Blanc will start shortly. The tunnel will form a new link between Italy, Switzerland and France and will carry a two-way auto-road.

The cost, estimated at Swiss Frs.60m., will be shared by the three countries. The new tunnel will be built by Italians working from both ends and will be finished in three years.

Geography lessons in mid-air is the latest offered to the pupils of the main secondary school at Basle — and they love it!

The idea came to the geography master when one of his boys who until then had shown himself indifferent to his country's geography suddenly was full of enthusiasm and eagerness after a short excursion trip by air which his father had offered him as a birthday present.

With maps and copybooks on their laps the boys and girls sit in luxury seats and peer through the windows while the master explains the landscape, rivers, hills and towns 5,000 feet below.

PETITES CHOSES QUI FONT PLAISIR.

"Semaine Suisse" (Service de Presse).

Le professeur Albert Einstein, l'un des plus grands physiciens de tous les temps, a fréquenté en son temps l'école cantonale d'Aarau puis a acquis la nationalité suisse. Dans une autobiographie, il déclare tenir en grande estime les universités suisses, tout particulièrement l'école polytechnique fédérale. Comparativement au système américain, on laisse à l'étudiant, en Suisse, beaucoup plus de liberté et de temps pour s'occuper du domaine qui l'intéresse particulièrement et le véritable zèle scientifique n'est pas tué par un enseignement trop rigide. Einstein écrit qu'il a reçu à l'école polytechnique fédérale un enseignement excellent.
