The Swiss Parliament has voted to establish Legations in Israel and Jordan. Hitherto, Switzerland has maintained only a Consul-General in Jerusalem, but trade relations have now so developed with Israel to warrant the creation of a full Legation.

During 1949, Switzerland exported to Israel 9,600,000 francs worth of goods, receiving in return only 714,000.—francs, thus giving Switzerland an extremely favourable trade balance.

Customs receipts during the month of September, 1950, reached the sum of 57.2 million francs, an increase of 15.2 million francs, on the figures of September, 1949.

During the first nine months of the current year, 420 million francs for customs duties were collected, which is 69 million francs more than during the same period in 1949.

Circles close to the Federal Government deny that there is any possibility of a large-scale gold transfer from Russia to Switzerland.

They admit that there have been limited transfers from the East to balance trade payments and also a small amount of smuggling, "but nothing on the scale recently alleged in the British Press." Such reports they describe as "completely devoid of foundation."

Federal-Councillor, Dr. J. Escher, has assumed his post as Head of the Federal Post and Railway Department.

Switzerland has a new claim to "hotel" fame — a luxury residence for horses on a hill farm not far from Zurich. The farm is for city horses in particular.

The idea originated from the action of a Zurich carter who asked his employers to allow him to take his horse with him into the country for a summer holiday. The request was granted and experts to whom the carter spoke agreed that the holiday had done the horse more good than any amount of first-class stabling in the city.

Within a few months a veterinary surgeon opened the unique horse "hotel."

The average stay at the hotel is two weeks and on arrival every horse is treated as a patient weighed and vetted. They are then turned out on perfect grazing land and, if they show a liking for any particular food, are given as much of it as they can eat. Finally, before they return to work, they are vetted and weighed again.

The grandstand of the Bienne, football club has been destroyed by fire.

C. E. SEINET,

Hon. Secretary.

During the conference of branch managers of the Swiss Central Tourist Office, which meets every year, in September, at Zurich in the first instance and then in regions which are selected with a view to favouring contacts, Mr. Siegfried Bittel, director of the national tourist publicity organisation warmly congratulated the new Manager of the Commercial Department (passenger section) of the Directorate-General of the Federal Railways in Berne — Dr. Fallet, who has just succeeded Dr. Fischer, recently appointed Director of the third arrondissement of S.F.R., Zurich, and was formerly his deputy. The spontaneous tribute of the director of the S.N.T.O. was also given to Mr. Josef Diener, who has just taken over the management of the information section at the Postal Directorate-General, also in Berne.

The Foreign Press Association of Switzerland after holding its general meeting sent the following telegram to Mr. Max Petitpierre, President of the Confederation and head of the Political Department: "The Foreign Press Association in Switzerland meeting in general assembly at the Municipio in Lugano has decided unanimously and by acclamation to confer upon you the quality of honorary member as a token of sincere esteem and gratitude."

The construction of the aerial cableway from Stalden to Staldenried (Valais) has been completed. The cableway will operate visionally and regular services will commence shortly. Starting from the railway station at Stalden of the Brig-Visp-Zermatt railway, it passes over the deep gorge of the Visp and ascends direct to 1057 metres to the village of Staldenried (nearby the hamlet Zur Tannen) which dominates from a great height the confluence of the Saas Visp and the Zermatt Visp. Over a length of 1150 metres the cableway negotiates a difference of level of 400 metres. A second section is under construction, from Zur Tannen to Gspon, magnificently situated at 1900 metres and the starting point for grand ski runs.

Last year the Swiss Skiing Federation advised the F.I.S. of the following events classed as "International":

XIIIth International race of the Ladies' Ski-Club (SDS) at Grindelwald, 12th to 14th January;
Four Track Trophy, at Villars, 16th/18th February;
Air France Cup, at Gstaad (date not yet fixed);
White Ribbon, at St. Moritz, 18th/19th February;
SAS Races, at Arosa (date not yet known);
XXVIth Parsenn Derby, at Davos, 4th March;
Gornergrat Derby, at Zermatt, 16th/18th March.

According to a report published in the periodical "Les Alpes", the review of the Swiss Alpine Club, the observatory of the Jungfrauoch received in 1949 the visit of 126 scientists as against 154 in 1948. 34 foreigners stayed to undertake research and study, including 18 British, 6 French, 5 Belgian, 3 American, 1 Egyptian and 1 Polish scientists. The proportion of foreigners was only 27% as against 51% the previous year, because English and French scientists postponed their visits to 1950.

The principal activity was research into cosmic rays, 28 stays were devoted to medicinal and veterinary research, 11 to glacier movements.
