Argentina has rejected the Swiss Government's protest against cancellation of an extension of the concessions granted by the municipality of Buenos Aires 21 years ago to the Compania Argentina de Electricidad and the Compania Italo-Argentina de Electricidad, in both of which Swiss capital is invested.

The Swiss Note reserved the right to reparations for damage caused to Swiss interests. The Argentine reply said it was impossible to accept the protests, because the two companies were constituted in Argentina and were subject to Argentine sovereignty exclusively.

The Swiss Government has sent a cheque for 4,550,000.— francs (approximately £375,000) in response to the appeal launched jointly by the Secretary-General of the United Nations and the High Commissioner for Refugees on behalf of the Hungarians in Austria and Yugoslavia.

The Federal Council has appointed Minister Dr. Friedrich Gyax to the post of Minister Plenipotentiary and Envoy Extraordinary to Poland in succession to Minister Fuchs.

Minister Gyax was born in 1902 and is a citizen of Seeburg (Ct. Berne). He studied juris prudencia at the Universities of Berne and Berlin. On the conclusion of his studies he occupied posts in commercial concerns and in 1934 entered the service of the Commercial Division of the Federal Economic Department. Eleven years later (1945) Minister Gyax was transferred to the Political Department (Swiss Foreign Office) and sent to New York as Consul General, where he remained until 1956. On his return to Berne he held the post of deputy to the head of the department for Political Affairs. At the beginning of this year he received the title of Minister.

Members of the so-called Swiss delegation to the Moscow youth festival were attacked when their train arrived at Zurich, and some were slightly injured. Several hundred demonstrators had assembled at the station, and they chanted in chorus "Go back to Moscow" when the Zurich group emerged from their carriages.

Some of the group left their luggage behind in escaping the crowd. The demonstrators hung about the station until the early morning, in the expectation that others who took part in the festival would be arriving.

The visit of Swiss youth to Moscow after the Hungarian tragedy has caused much controversy and condemnation. [A.T.S.]

VARIOUS.

Accidents in the Alps have this year again been heavy. A group of alpinists started from Saas Fee to climb the "Weissmies" summit (4,031 m.); one of the party, Paul Rinsoz (59), a watchmaker of La Chaux-de-Fonds, fell into a glacier crevasse. The well-known glacier pilot Geiger was summoned and he succeeded in getting the man out of the crevasse, but the latter died soon afterwards.

René-Louis Gregory (15), of Geneva, fell from a mountain top near Thyon (Ct. Valais) and was killed.

4,000 periodicals are published regularly in Switzerland. The total of political dailies is estimated at 120. Owing to the extreme decentralization of the Swiss Press, daily sales per newspaper are low — there are 330 political newspapers with a sale of 1,000 to 5,000 copies, and only 11 with a daily net sale of over 50,000.
