SWISS MERCANTILE SOCIETY

The Monthly Meeting of the Society was held at Swiss House on Wednesday, 12th October. About eighty members and friends attended, and Mr. A. Jaccard expressed the pleasure of all present at seeing Mr. O. Grob, President, back in the Chair after his recent illness.

The steady influx of new members was maintained, Messrs. J. P. Christen, A. K. Mueller and M. Stricker being unanimously elected to active membership.

It was with deep regret that the Chairman announced the death of Mr. O. Bartholdi, Contributing Member, whom many had known personally and to whose memory the meeting paid a last silent tribute.

The Chairman congratulated Mr. A. S. Kiener on his recent appointment to the managership of the newly opened City branch of the Atlas Assurance Company and Essex and Suffolk Insurance Company.

After the official proceedings, the following films were shown by courtesy of the Swiss National Tourist Office:—

Passport — A Television film with Richard Dimbleby, featuring the Bernese Oberland in winter. This was an excellent study in black and white and all present enjoyed the beautiful scenery as well as the commentary by the B.B.C.'s star commentator on one of the World's most famous holiday areas.

Postman's Holiday, by contrast, showed an English postman flying to Switzerland by Swissair and enjoying a summer holiday in Berne and Lucerne, with a trip in an alpine postal coach as a guest of the Swiss G.P.O. This fine technicolor film showed many well-known scenes from different angles, with a lighthearted story woven into a picturesque pattern.

Geranium Day in Berne portrayed our capital City in its festive mood, with the boys' band in its quaint old costumes and the annual Geranium Day celebrations with a gorgeous display of colours. The history and background to it all was explained in a fine commentary by Wynford Vaughan-Thomas.

Tessin, another very colourful film, rounded off an entertaining programme, showing this paradise in Southern Switzerland with all it can offer to the holiday maker. Many must have imagined themselves back in familiar surroundings where they had spent happy days in the gay and sunny South.

A cordial vote of thanks was accorded to the operator, Mr. Brown, of the Swiss National Tourist Office, for the excellent manner in which he had shown the films.
