“GREAT BRITAIN LOOKING FOR NEW INDUSTRIES”

This was the heading of a report that a British trade delegation, headed by the Parliamentary Secretary to the Board of Trade, Mr. David Price, started negotiations in Switzerland early in May. The results of last year's British Fair in Switzerland were examined and the possibility explored with Swiss industrialists for new industries to be developed in certain regions in Great Britain.

One of the members of the delegation was General Sir Gordon Macmillan, Chairman of the Development Corporation of the new town of Cumbernauld, the new town near Glasgow.

LORD BRABAZON OF TARA †

By the recent death of Lord Brabazon of Tara our country and the Swiss Colony mourns the passing of a great friend. Amongst his many posts and offices he held in many spheres, bob-sleighting was his greatest joy, and every year from 1907, with the exception of the war periods, he competed on the Cresta Run.

He won the Curzon Cup three times and had numerous other successes. Age seemed to make little difference to him, even when he was rushing down the slope at 80 m.p.h. At 67 he accepted the presidency of the St. Moritz Tobogganing Club. He celebrated his 79th birthday by winning the Cartwright race. Soon after his 79th birthday he enjoyed a run down the Cresta.

Lord Brabazon of Tara was in the past a frequent visitor to the City Swiss Club, taking part at Annual Banquets, or giving addresses to the members of the Club at their monthly meetings.

ST.

DR. ELISABETH ROTTEN †

In a London hospital early in May the death occurred of Mrs. Elisabeth Rotten. She originated from Saanen (Berne) and became well-known as a collaborator of Mr. Ph. Noel-Baker and his movement for world peace. She was an active supporter of the aims of the League of Nations and activities of Fridtjof Nansen.

SWITZERLAND HONOURS SHAKESPEARE

Being a multilingual country, it is Switzerland's enviable privilege to mark the quatercentenary of William Shakespeare's birth by performances of his plays in four languages. In Basle there will be a ceremony at the Concert Hall on 16th June in honour of the poet, following performances of “Henry V” and “Love's Labour's Lost” by the celebrated Bristol Old Vic Company on 11th and 12th June. The same company, which is well known in Switzerland, will also be performing the two plays in Zurich, where the Playhouse is including in its series “Shakespeare in Four Languages” a guest performance of “Hamlet” in Italian, a Parisian production of “Merchant of Venice” and its own presentation of “The Tempest”. This strange play, one of the poet's last, will also be acted in the Castle Park at Spiez on the Lake of Thun and the natural decor will enhance its atmosphere of magic.
