THE NEW FEDERAL COUNCILLOR

Dr. Nello Celio was born on 12th February 1914 at Quinto (Leventina). His father died when he was one year old, and his mother, a teacher, brought him up. He went to school at Airolo and in Bellinzona, where he received the diploma of commerce in 1932. He studied law in Basle and Berne and graduated summa cum laude in 1937.

After working at a lawyer's at Faido, he opened his own practice in 1939. Two years later, he became Secretary to the Cantonal Department of the Interior. In 1945, he advanced to Attorney of the Sopraceneri, and at the age of 32, he was elected into the Council of State where he remained until 1959. Building and road construction and the development of water power were his special concerns.

He then opened his own successful practice in Lugano, together with National Councillor Dr. Brenno Galli. SWISS SUCCESS IN ILLUMINATION TECHNIQUE

An American firm, affiliated to a holding company in Geneva, has just been commissioned to manufacture and install the lighting equipment for the municipal stadium at San Diego, California. The lighting which will make possible the retransmission of night games by colour television, will be provided by 1,166 projectors, comprising 366 5,000-watt incandescent lamps, giving a total illumination of 115,000 lumens, and 800 1,000-watt metal vapour lamps, providing a luminosity of 90,000 lumens. San Diego stadium will be the first in the world to be equipped with lighting of this kind. All the plans were made in Geneva by another firm, a subsidiary of the same holding company. It should be mentioned that these same firms have already supplied the lighting for St. Peter's Cathedral in Geneva, the fountain in the lake there and Charmilles stadium, also in Geneva, the Eiffel Tower in Paris, the Kemal Ataturk mausoleum in Ankara as well as the main bridges in New York.
