IGEHO 67 — A GREAT SUCCESS

After seven very successful days IGEHO 67, the International Hotel and Catering Exhibition, closed its doors on 28th November. 400 exhibitors from eleven countries displayed their goods, and the number of visitors increased from the 12,000 registered for the first exhibition in 1965 to 20,000 this year. Very lively interest was evoked amongst the competent personalities concerned with the problems of communal catering and the hotel and restaurant trades by the opportunities they had to examine on the spot a model canteen, a cafeteria, modern equipment and a hotel reception office display.

More than 1,200 participants attended the experts' congress organised by the "Schweizerischer Fachverband für Gemeinschaftsverpflegung", which ran concurrently with IGEHO 67 and registered a great success. Other events of particular interest were the seminar of the Swiss Swiss Hotel Proprietors' Association, the symposium of the Swiss League for the Protection of the Civilian Population, and the special days as the "army-day" and the "Swiss cooks-day".
