SCHWEIZERBUND

A few members of the Schweizerbund held an intimate and friendly

There was no singing this time as the attendance was rather too restricted, but excellent food, and lively conversations in a warm atmosphere. Many of the traditional members were absent but Mr. Virgil Berti, the President had the pleasure of welcoming for the first time Mr. and Mrs. Reutlinger and Mr. Robert, members of the Embassy.

Daily Mirror launches balloon at Interlaken

The Daily Mirror will launch a hydrogen filled balloon from Interlaken on Saturday 26th August, or the nearest date with favourable conditions. Aboard will be a reporter, William Marshall, a photographer, Eric Piper and a Swiss pilot, Erwin Sautter. They will endeavour to cross the Alps at an altitude of between 15,000 and 18,000 feet.

The balloon will carry letters of Mirror readers and the excursion will also help raise money for the World Wildlife Fund by selling commemorative covers each time it touches down. This expedition commemorates a similar event which took place 50 years ago at Interlaken and drew much publicity.

Swiss artist exhibition in London

An exhibition on the work of Swiss Sculptor Eva Aeppli was staged during July at the Hannover Galleries at St. George St., London. Her work, consisting essentially of figures and small statues of a variety of materials is distinctly personal. Her figures of silk brought her wide recognition and she has exhibited in most European centres, particularly, Paris, Zurich and Stockholm. This was the first London exhibition of the artist, who was born in 1925 at Zofingen.
