Christmas by a little black donation book which is passed around among the tables. The money raised is used in renting St. Mary's Hall at the YMCA building in Russell St. and in buying toys, fruits and sweeties for the children. Owing to various rising expenses and the fact that the proceeds of the donation book are not always keeping pace with the rise in the cost of living, it was necessary to dispense with toys this year. Children were given oranges, sweets, crayons and similar objects in bright plastic bags distributed by a part-time Father Christmas. The organisers of the Fête would like to acknowledge the support they have received this year and thank all those Swiss of London who had a thought for the children of the Colony.

The programme began with the story of the "Fourth Magi" told by a series of colour slides and a script read out by your Editor. Then came the Magician, "Uncle Lennie" who brought about the usual response. His appeal lay as much in his clowning ability as in his conjuring. After having warmly applauded Uncle Lennie, the children watched three Mickey Mouse cartoons and a short SNTU film on a Swiss mountain village.

Without being told twice, the children promptly took to their seats for Tea. They were amply provided for with sandwiches, cakes and ice-cream. At this point your Editor left for the cloakroom and put on a Father Christmas garb that had been used on the same occasion for three generations. It took him an excruciatingly long time to secure the beard which was supplied with two metallic hooks to be placed around the ears.

The role of Father Christmas had been assumed for the past thirty or more years by Mr. Gabriel Godet, who has recently retired to Switzerland. While impersonating Santa Claus and handing out gifts doesn't require particular abilities, it does call for a knowledge of the fact that Father Christmas is a real person and not a myth to some children. To realise this, one had only to watch the crowd of children gaping at Father Christmas as he sat to enjoy an ice-cream after having carried out his duty! One little girl was most upset to realise that Father Christmas was none other than the man who had acted as compere earlier in the afternoon. She was soothingly told that the real Father Christmas was in the mountain clouds and that he sent one of his deputies to officiate at the children's Christmas colony celebration.

As on previous occasions it was clear that a great many of the children at St. Mary's Hall were only half Swiss and nearly all English-speaking. The majority were obviously of Swiss motherhood and of British or Commonwealth parents. But they were none the less Swiss to a great extent and the Colony Fête may have fostered their Swiss identity. But one thing it did achieve was to give them two hours of thorough enjoyment.
