A STORY OF LOVE AND FRIENDSHIP

Mrs. Olga Selby-Huber arrived in Leeds from Siebnen, Canton Schwyz, 25 years ago with the intention of stopping one year to learn the language. With only two months of that year left to go she met and married Peter Selby a native of Leeds not long demobbed from wartime service with the R.A.F.

Olga took up hospital work and later, after the birth of Peter Anton, Barbara Heidi, and Rosemarie Jane Selby, specialised in the care of elderly people first working as an assistant in an elderly persons home, then later on managing the same home. Eventually her dream was realised when out of the blue the opportunity came along to own and run her own elderly persons home, The Gables, set high in the Yorkshire Pennines amidst Swiss-like scenery. Olga, who could be described as a Swiss-Yorkshire Lass has a fantastic rapport with the elderly no doubt due to her early Swiss upbringing, and enjoys the friendship of many Yorkshire folk.

A busy life in Yorkshire has not isolated her from her native land, her husband Peter is a 'Swissophile' and she often says that she has seen more of her own country since she married her Englishman than she did at home, he is always dragging her off to visit some fantastic view when they are in Switzerland on holiday.

This September sees the 25th anniversary of Peter and Olga's Wedding, and the celebration is going to be held in the Kappelle Restaurant high above the village of Siebnen with many English and Swiss relatives and friends present. A rags-to-riches story with riches in the contentment context rather than the financial, a bonus for Britain story to have such a dedicated Swiss lass caring for their elderly.
