SWISSAIR PARCEL EXPRESS TO UNITED STATES

The Swissair Parcel Express service (SPEX) is now available from London to air freight small urgent consignments to any part of the United States.

SPEX is designed to transport small packages within one or two days from sender to consignee, not just between major airport cities, but to over 10,000 localities in the US. Packages leave London Heathrow on Swissair's evening flight to Zurich, where they are transferred to the Boston flight leaving Zurich next day at noon. On arrival they are cleared through customs by Swissair's own broker and carried onward the same night by Federal Express jet aircraft to over 100 airports throughout the country. Delivery to the consignee is guaranteed by 14.00 hrs (in some cases 17.00 hrs) local time the day after leaving Zurich.

To qualify for transport under the SPEX system, packages must not exceed a gross weight of 10 kilos (22 lbs) and length, width and height added together must not be more than 120 cm (47 inches). Declared value of each consignment must not exceed US $249 or equivalent in local currency.

The charge from either London or Manchester to any destination in the US is £63.15 per consignment. It includes a non-performance guarantee, under which £29 is refunded if the consignment is not delivered by the stated time.
