No official statement has been issued by the G.P.O. to the effect that the services to Switzerland are interrupted. Airmail letters take about four weeks but ordinary post and especially parcels are subject to considerable delay, due, it is said, to congestion on the French railways.

Our Parliamentary session came to an end on June 23rd when the National Council passed a credit of Frs. 280,000 towards the purchase for experimental purposes of a large farm in the canton Vaud. In the States Council an amount of 12 million francs was voted for improvements and additions in the Postal administration during the coming year.

The freedom and political liberties guaranteed under our Constitution formed the subject of a lively discussion in the National Council. The speaker from the government bench insisted that these privileges were still respected and protected but that Communist activities were dangerous to the State. This decision was a purely internal affair and was not influenced by developments elsewhere.

Since the middle of June four National Day Celebration stamps are on sale with a surtax at the Swiss Post offices. These stamps are sold in favour of the Swiss Red Cross. The 5cts. stamp shows a view of Heiden, the small township in which Henri Dunant, the founder of the Red Cross, died. The 10cts. is a reminder of the battle of St. Jakob a/Birs, (1444), bearing the picture of the famous chapel, and the 30cts. gives a view of the Basle Cathedral and the Pfalz. The 20cts. stamp presents a view of the old castle of Mesocco in the Grisons.
