OBITUARY

All those connected with the French-speaking Swiss parish in London will be shocked to learn of the death of its organist for over fifteen years: *Mr.
Reginald Paul*. Mr. Paul died on Thursday, 8th August of a heart attack which followed a first attack suffered about three weeks before. Mr. Paul, who was 80, had been a highly-successful piano teacher and a specialist in hymnology. All parishioners of the Swiss Church remember him as a very kind and affable man whose disappearance will cause problems for the ordinance of weekly services. We should like to express our sympathy to his widow and children.

We have also been told of the death, last February in Geneva, of *Mrs.
Emilie E. Smith-Jaccard*. Hailing from St.
Croix, Vaud, Mrs. Smith-Jaccard lived at Wood-Norton, Norfolk. She was nearly one hundred years old at her death. She had married an English Director of Agriculture in East Bengal, India and had remained firmly attached to her Swiss nationality during all these years. We should like to extend our condolences to her daughter and family.

55th SWISS NATIONAL FAIR IN LAUSANNE

7th to 22nd September, 1974

The 55th Lausanne National Fair, or Swiss Comptoir as it is known locally, will be opening its gates from 7th to 22nd September, 1974, placing at the disposal of its 2,500 national exhibitors and its three foreign guests of honour — Hungary, Ecuador and Zaire — all the premises and facilities of the Palais de Beaulieu complex. More than ever, the Lausanne National Fair will be seen to be open to new ideas and international exchanges.

In each of its big main sectors — agriculture, industry, trade and craftwork — the emphasis will be placed on the new features and improvements introduced each year by Swiss manufacturers and producers, confirming the reputation of Swiss products. In addition, the leading trade associations will illustrate for the public the economic problems of the day and the evolution of the situation by means of thematic exhibitions featuring, for example, Switzerland's nuclear energy equipment, as well as the problems facing Switzerland's agriculture in its relations with EEC.

In the guest of honour pavilions, Hungary will present an official exhibition in co-operation with the largest exporting firms in the country, whose industrial reconversion is in full swing. Ecuador will send to Lausanne the best products of its foodstuffs industries, its craftwork and its new industries, in a thematic display within the context of its five-year development plan. Zaire, in an extremely spectacular display will give a complete picture of its mining resources, its traditional and modern activities, as well as its cultural life, illustrated by an art exhibition and performances by actors, dancers and musicians.

Important national and foreign days will also be held during the fortnight of the Lausanne Fair — a traditional part of Swiss life and a link between Switzerland and its trade partners.
