was the norm at the time, by an Re6/6 (11643 'Laufen').

Arrival back at Geneva Cornavin at 1447 was, as usual, in between the coaching stock and SNCF loco stabling sidings to the north and CFF loco spur to the south. There were clearly no interesting SNCF locos such as CC7100s stabled that return journey. In particular I appear to have taken the trouble to note shunter 16371 as well as 1615 and 1617, two Be4/6 railcars which were nearly always there – often used only as staff trains - so I very seldom bothered to note them! Also noted are 10042, 10044 and Ae3/6 10783. My connecting train turned out to be the Milano – Geneva (remember we're still talking about Christmas Day here!), hauled, as afternoon as I have only noted Ae6/6 11478 'Sierre'. I had been away from Geneva for just 4 3/4 hours, but had seen trains of three different Swiss railways, coaches incoming from France and Italy, freight, another city's trams, and at least 10 different classes of CFF motive power, including Re4/4/IIs in three different liveriesand all on a Christmas Day.....
