The Polmengo bridge, at the end of the Dazio Grande gorge, can now be viewed from one of the new platforms built for the purpose. As the line runs exactly east/west over the bridge, the best light is early morning in mid-summer.

LE 3/3 8501 provided the steam attraction at Biasca, giving trips up and down the considerable length of the yard. A period of dry weather has diminished the waterfall enough for it to fit the chimney!

The C 5/6 is the class of steam locomotive most associated with the Gotthard, so it was appropriate that one of the class, 2978, worked the anniversary special. The special is seen at Hägrigen, just after traversing the Pfaffensprung spiral tunnel.
