Where's Heidi?

If you're lucky and observant, you might just see the reflection of a BLS train descending the south ramp whilst you stand on Visp station, though not in this image.

As with the previous 'Where's Heidi?', the moral is to always look up at buildings. Many facades are interesting.

And finally...

An animated Kurt Amacher, who drives the old steam engines on the Brienzer Rothorn Bahn, explains something to an interested onlooker at Geldried in July 2015. "It's real, I saw it, this big, there in the tank" - at least we think that's what he was saying!
