Historical Celebration

The 600th anniversary of Zurich's entry into the Swiss Confederation was the occasion for various celebrations which we have spoken about elsewhere in this number (see page 35). At the beginning of June an official celebration took place, as well as great public rejoicings which were unfortunately somewhat marred by inclement weather. Here we reproduce a view of the arrival in Zurich of the warriors of Lucerne and a glimpse of the crowds round the tables of the open-air cafes along the Limmat right in the centre of the town.

Silk Honoured

The exhibition « 600 Years of Zurich Silks », to which an article has been devoted in this number (p. 39), was opened on May 29th. During the opening ceremony, guests had the pleasure of seeing a fashion parade showing the use of silk in fashion down through the ages. We give here two amusing views taken during the presentation in which the change that has taken place in silk evening dresses during the last twenty-five years can be seen.
