VII. FINANCE

Fund-Raising

Efforts begun in 1974 to seek new sources of funds and to induce governments and National Societies to increase their annual contributions brought forth some encouraging results in 1977, it having been possible to close the accounts for the year without a sizeable deficit.

Many governments and National Societies have made larger contributions, some substantially, while others have paid special supplements pending a decision to augment their regular annual contributions.

Similarly, prospecting of American Foundations has paid off. However, it must cease in 1978, pursuant to new arrangements reached with the American National Red Cross.

The private sector, too, especially in Switzerland, has responded to the activities and financial situation of the ICRC. Donations rose sharply in 1977.

We avail ourselves of this opportunity to recall Resolution XIII of the Twenty-third International Red Cross Conference at Bucharest last October, which reads as follows:

The XXIIIrd International Conference of the Red Cross, noting with satisfaction the work done by the Commission for the financing of the ICRC, noting further that thanks to the joint efforts of the Commission and the International Committee the contributions of National Societies have appreciably risen during the course of the past four years, renews the term of office of the Commission with its present membership, invites National Societies to continue and to increase their efforts to contribute, through their financial participation, to the discharge of the ever-increasing activities of the ICRC, reiterates its appeal to all governments signatories to the Geneva Conventions to give their systematic and more substantial support to the regular financing of the ICRC, expresses the hope that the governments and National Societies which have not yet contributed to the ICRC budget will from now on give it their financial support, even if they are only able to contribute by a token payment.

For the future, it is imperative that efforts to increase the sources of finance for the ICRC should continue. In fact, expected regular receipts for 1978 fall short of the ordinary budget expenditure—estimated at 23.7 million Swiss francs—by 4 million francs.

It is planned to step up approaches to governments. Failure to raise sufficient funds will compel the ICRC to renounce several tasks even though they can be undertaken by no one else.

1977 Balance Sheet and Results

Balance Sheet

As at 31 December 1977 the Balance Sheet assets showed a reduction, compared to 1976, of short-term capital investment—as a result of the use of the funds provided in 1976 to finance operations in Lebanon that year. The liabilities show a corresponding reduction in the Special Fund for Current Operations.

On the other hand, with the insignificance of the 1977 deficit, it was possible to hold the Capital Reserve Fund at the 1976 level.

This Fund, at not quite 6 million francs, is slightly less than 25% of the Ordinary Budget of 23.7 million. For an institution which is called upon to cope quickly with crisis situations which may be on a large scale, this proportion is positively insufficient. The Fund should be equivalent to the cost of half a year's operations, i.e. twice its present amount.

Expenditure and Income

Ordinary Account. — Although, originally, the estimated deficit was 698,890 francs, the excess of expenditure over income for 1977 was 192,149 francs, as a result of a revision of expenses during the year.

The difference of 506,741 francs may be considered satisfactory, especially in view of the sharp drop in the value of the dollar in November and December, as a result of which an exchange loss of 209,260 francs was written off.

Special Account. — All operations for which special financial appeals were made were adequately financed; this applied to both those which were completed in 1977 and those which continued into the early months of 1978. Balances carried forward for the latter are shown under item 4 of Table XI (see page 72).

This carry-forward procedure is essential for the proper discharge of missions which continue from one year to the next.

Fund for Current Operations

This includes:

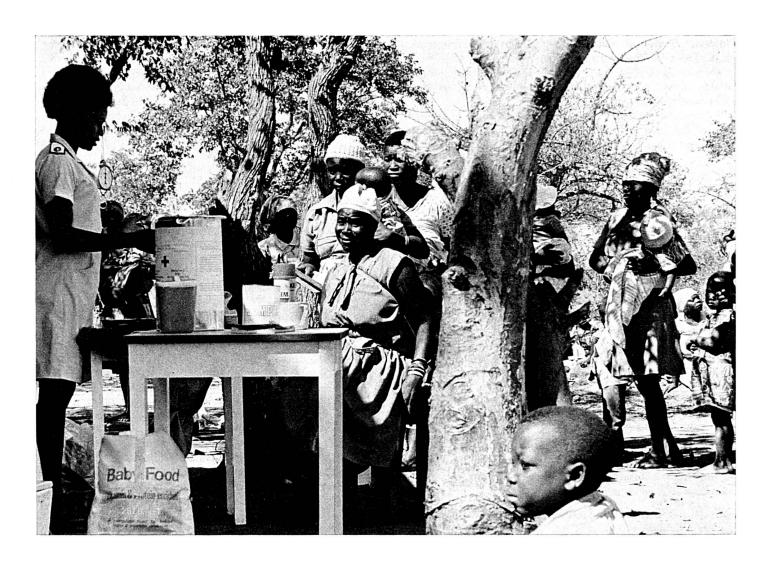

- the special ICRC fund supported by the annual public collection in Switzerland (see item 2.1 of Table XI on page 72), and
- all funds received (donations and legacies) for relief programmes.

The ICRC ordinary account bears all expenses for the organization of the special fund maintained by the collection, so that the total amount collected is assigned to various relief programmes.

Auditing

As in past years, the ICRC accounts were audited by the Société fiduciaire OFOR SA, appointed by the ICRC in accordance with its Statutes. The auditors' letter proposing that the 1977 accounts be approved is reproduced on page 78.
